

GERMANS CAPTURE 1,000 YARDS OF FRENCH POSITIONS SOUTH OF THE SOMME, IS BERLIN REPORT

VILLAGE OF FRISE ALSO IN TEUTON HANDS

Nearly 1,000 Prisoners and Thirteen Machine Guns Are Taken.

Trenches Northeast of Neuville Also Stormed By German Forces.

French Statement, General Attack By Enemy Proves Failure.

Berlin, via London, Jan. 29.—The capture of 1,000 yards of French positions south of the Somme by German troops was announced today by army headquarters. Prisoners to the number of 827 and thirteen machine guns were taken.

The thousand yards of positions taken were south of the village of Frise, which also was captured by the Germans.

Northeast of Neuville the Germans stormed trenches along a front of about 1,000 yards, capturing twenty-seven prisoners and nine machine guns.

French Statement.

Paris, Jan. 29, via London, 1 p. m.—An attack by the Germans on the French front south of the Somme yesterday along a width of several kilometers failed completely on the southern end of the line, succeeding only on the bank of the Somme against the village of Frise, it is announced today by the war office statement last night said.

"In the Artois district artillery fighting has been especially violent. The enemy has directed successive attacks in various points on the front. To the west of Hill 140, south of Givenchy, after a series of mine explosions, the enemy succeeded in gaining a foothold in some parts of our advanced trenches. Another attack directed at the same time against our positions in the neighborhood of the village of Neuville to the north of Arras was decisively checked.

"To the south of the road from Neuville to La Folle we repulsed in the morning a new attack after a very violent fight and repulsed the violent counter-attack of the enemy. It is confirmed that in this section during previous fights the enemy suffered heavy losses. One hundred and fifty German bodies were counted in one of the craters we repulsed.

"In retaliation for the bombardment on Jan. 26, by a Zeppelin of villages in the region of Arras, one of our dirigible balloons shelled Freiburg-in-Breisgau on the night of Jan. 27-28. Eighteen 165 millimeter shells and twenty 50 millimeter shells fell on the station in the military establishment which sustained heavy damage."

LINDSEY TO BERLIN TO STUDY CHILDREN NEEDS

The Hague, Jan. 29, via London.—Ben B. Lindsey has left Holland for Berlin to study the needs of children in the European countries. It is said that Henry Ford, before leaving Christiania, told Mr. Lindsey that if it were possible, he would provide ample funds to help the children. Judge Lindsey hopes later to go to England and leave there for the United States.

SIXTY PERSONS PERISH AND PROPERTY DAMAGED BY FLOODS

Fierce Storm Ravages the California Coast for Several Days.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 29.—The general storm that has swept the Pacific coast region since early Thursday has cost at least sixty lives and property damage amounting to millions of dollars, according to reports early this morning. The greatest loss of life was in the Otay valley south of San Diego, where no less than fifty lives are reported lost as the result of a dam bursting from the weight of water thrown against it by the heavy rains.

Eight men were drowned off San Francisco early yesterday morning, when the steamer Alaska of Oakland was wrecked. No bodies have been recovered.

Flood waters and high winds did damage in various parts of the state, the oil districts suffering particularly. Hundreds of derricks being wrecked. Snow fell in the northern part of the state and wire communication was generally demoralized.

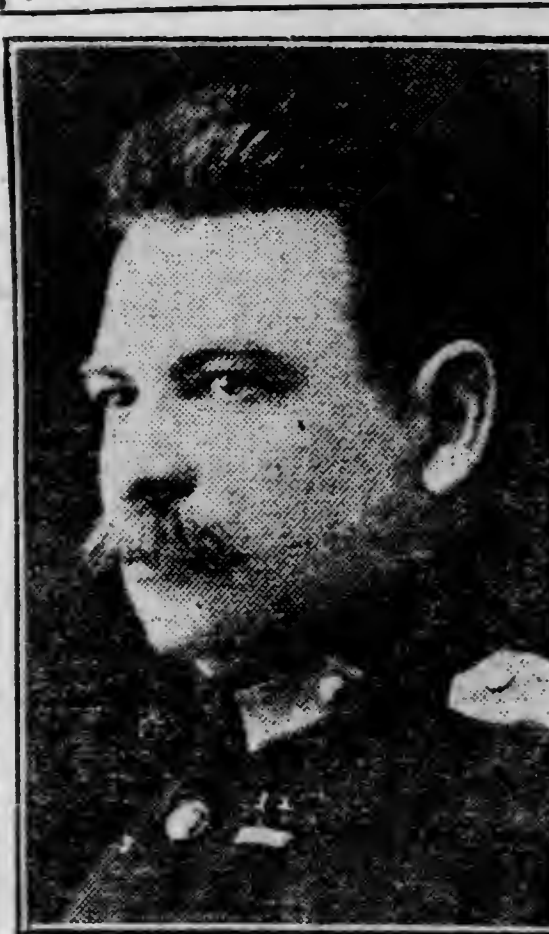

Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana report very cold weather and snow, with the thermometer ranging in Montana from 20 to 60 deg. below zero. Railway traffic is seriously hampered by snow drifts and slides.

Scores of Persons Missing.

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 29, radio to Los Angeles.—Estimates early today still fixed at fifty the number of dead as the result of the Otay valley flood. Eleven billion gallons of water were London Papers Like Aggressive Speech Made By President Wilson.

Say It Brings American Opinion Into Harmony With English.

London, Jan. 29.—The London morning newspapers express enthusiastic approval of President Wilson's speech before the Railway Business association in New York on Thursday night. The Times says it "brings all that is best in American opinion into complete harmony with ours, and contains a pledge that makes technical controversy will inevitably arise between the Entente allies and the United States will be settled in an amicable spirit."

Dealing with President Wilson's statement, "I cannot tell you what the international relations of the country will be tomorrow," the Daily News in its editorial says:

"Uttered by a man of the president's almost pedantic personal speech, it is impossible to treat such words as mere rhetorical flourish. On the other hand, (Continued on page 3, second column.)"

Special Grand Jury Investigating Alleged Confessions of Crooks.

Declared Politicians and Police Officers at Bottom of Scheme.

Head of Detectives and State's Attorney Special Victims.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Charges that criminals are being brought from New York and other cities to commit crimes in Chicago for the purpose of discrediting the city administration, are being investigated today by a special grand jury, police officials said.

In an alleged confession made public last night by the police, Eddie Mack, notorious pickpocket charged with leading the bandits who robbed the Washington Park National bank of $15,000, is said to have revealed a plot to discredit both city and county officials and members of the police department.

"It was generally known among crooks, that imported gunmen were going after Capt. Hunt (chief of detectives), and Mackey Hoyle, (state's attorney), because they were after the crooks," Mack is alleged by the police to have said.

"Certain politicians and police officers are bringing them into town," he added.

According to the state's attorney's office, at least six police officers are implicated by Mack's confession, in which he is quoted as naming several as "fixers" of criminals and as having accepted money for the protection of law-breakers. Several police officers recently were convicted on similar charges.

Two of the men arrested yesterday in connection with the Washington Park bank holdup, came to Chicago from New York, the police said. They are the Kramer brothers, and are quoted by the police as saying that they were intimates of the murderers of Herman Rosenthal in New York.

According to Charles Kramer, the brothers were arrested soon after Rosenthal's murder in the room of Harry Horowitz, known as "Cap the Blond," but were released when they established an alibi.

TEST OF PREPARATION RESTS WITH YOUNG MEN, NOT CONGRESS, DECLARES PRESIDENT WILSON

STUNG ONCE, GETS REVENGE

Man Swindled on De Luxe Set of Books Awarded $73,000.

Five Thousand Volumes in Courtroom as Evidence.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Harry M. Levenson, book collector of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., was awarded judgment for $73,000 in the Federal court yesterday on allegations that he was defrauded in a rare book swindle.

In his suit he named William Y. C. Humes, Herbert O. Tomlinson, James Plunkett, Edward J. McArdie and Samuel Warfield as defendants.

Levenson paid $21,500 for the 5,000 volumes involved. The jury awarded him this sum, plus interest, less which the jury considered the actual value of the set.

Judge George A. Carpenter's room resembled a book store receiving shipment of stock during the trial. Levenson, who alleged the defendants sold him for $21,500 a set of "Americana," consisting of 5,000 volumes, which he asserted really were worth more than $1,000. He produced the books in court as evidence.

Fifty packing cases were required to transport the sets from New York to Chicago and these cases were piled in the courtroom, where from New York various volumes were introduced by the complainant as evidence of the alleged swindle.

Levenson met Humes and Plunkett in New Orleans in May, 1911, he declared, when the transaction was arranged. (Continued on page 3, second column.)

FOUR MYSTERIOUSLY SHOT AT ALBANY, N. Y.

Two Killed and Two Severely Wounded By an Unknown Man.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 29.—The residence districts of the city today were dotted with extra policemen and detectives searching for the gunman who late yesterday afternoon and last evening shot four persons, injuring two so severely that their recovery is doubtful.

Three of the victims were shot through the back, and one through the side with a revolver, either equipped with a silencing device, or fired through the pocket of a heavy ulster the man wore.

Of the four shot, two heard muffled reports, and the other two were not aware they had been injured until they fell in the street from weakness.

The two most seriously injured are Mrs. John A. McKown and James Irwin. John McCormick and E. M. Kinney were less severely wounded.

SUCCESSIVE STORMS SHATTER ALL RAILWAY TRAFFIC SCHEDULES

Railroads Face the Most Trying Conditions in Many Years.

More Snow and Wind, With Lower Temperature, Predicted.

All Local Records for Snowfall Broken During January.

Three inches of snow had fallen at 10 o'clock this morning since the storm began last evening, and traffic in general is hampered in Duluth and on railroads entering here. Railroad men say that the traffic conditions are the worst in years and that train schedules, particularly as to freights, are almost completely wrecked. That the end of the storm is not yet is the news given out by Mr. Richardson, weather forecaster, and the snow will continue tonight and most of tomorrow at least.

Winds, which amounted to a gale during the night, and caused many new drifts to form, will continue fresh to-morrow, and will be shifting in character. The weather will also grow colder tonight and tomorrow, going to a few degrees above zero. The wind during the night blew thirty to forty miles an hour.

GUNS FOR DEFENSE ONLY; LINER TO SAIL

Italy Assures United States They Will Not Be Used Otherwise.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Italy has given assurance that the guns mounted on the liner Verona are for defensive purposes only and the state department today advised the treasury that there was no objection to permitting the Italian liner to carry the guns.

No decision has been reached as to the Italian liner America, which also has guns, but she will be permitted to sail if the same assurances are given.

LOST CHANCE OF VICTORY

Lloyd George Says Central Powers Are Beginning to Weaken.

Says Allies Are Only Beginning and Are Rapidly Gaining.

Paris, Jan. 29.—The Paris newspapers publish further excerpts from the interview yesterday of David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, with the London correspondent of the Milan Secolo, in which the minister was quoted as saying that the allies are only just beginning, but in the present war, while Germany is weakening. The excerpts follow:

"We have at present 3,000,000 men under arms," said Mr. Lloyd George, according to the interviewers, "and in spring we shall have 4,000,000 soldiers, solid, fit and well equipped."

"This is a democratic war. It is not I should have nothing to do with it. I was opposed to the last war that England and the British Empire were engaged in, but in the present war, the future of democracy in the whole world is involved. It is a struggle between military autocracy and political liberty, a hideous conflict, but one wherein we shall be victorious, of that I am certain. The central empires have lost their chance of victory, and they know it. Great Britain is united for this war to such a point, that if there were a general election, not a single anti-war member would be elected."

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

With the nearer approach of spring, indications are multiplying of preparations for active campaigning on the various fronts. Such actual fighting as is going on, however, while locally important, as that in France and Belgium, is apparently not indicative of the beginning as yet of any operations on a large scale.

The situation in the Balkans continues to excite marked interest and there is increasing attention being given to diplomatic negotiation in connection with Greece. The allies for their part, have made a new move, in making a landing on the Karaburun peninsula, near the head of the Gulf of Salonika, occupying the city of Thessalonika, and being considered undesirable by the Entente forces to have the position in other hands than their own.

As to Greece herself, a dispatch from Teutonic sources carries the intimation that King Constantine and his close advisers fear she may be dragged into the war eventually, through the influence of former Premier Venizelos with the Greek people, the idea of a revolutionary movement of a grave character not being absent from the mind of the ruler and his political and military aides.

Coincidentally there are revived reports that a speedy advance on Salonika is contemplated by the Entente allies and that Turkish forces, notably the Gallipoli army, are moving to positions where they will be ready to participate in the attack.

Although it is reported from Athens that the Italians have determined to abandon Durazzo on the Albanian coast, owing to the difficulty presented to its defense against the Albanian forces, there are reports from Southern Albania, more favorable to the allies. Rome has advised that General Pashas, leader of the Albanian troops favorable to the Entente, has effected a junction with the Italian forces. Positions at Avlona and at other sections of Southern Albania, were fortified in the expectation that the measures taken, will be effective in checking the Austrians.

Enormous Crowd Listens to Executive's Speech at Pittsburgh.

Says Young Men Should Answer to Call for Volunteers.

Believes They Will Do Their Duty and Employers Also.

WILSON'S ITINERARY.

Saturday, Jan. 28 (p. m.)—Cleveland. Monday, Jan. 31 (a. m.)—Milwaukee. Tuesday, Jan. 31 (p. m.)—Chicago. Wednesday, Feb. 1—Des Moines. Thursday, Feb. 2—Topeka. Friday, Feb. 3 (a. m.)—St. Louis. Saturday, Feb. 4 (p. m.)—Arrive at Washington.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 29.—President Wilson, opening here today his six-day program of speaking in the Middle West on national preparedness, told a throng which packed Memorial hall, that the tests of national preparedness lay, not with congress, but with the young men of the country in their answer to the call for volunteers and their employers, who should oppose no obstacle to free response.

"And I for one," the president said, "believe both the young men and their employers will do their duty."

"I am not afraid that America will not do enough. I am only earnestly desiring that she should be very truly conscious of what she does. One cool judgment is worth a thousand hasty counsels."

REPORT OF ULTIMATUM TO GERMANY IS DENIED

Lansing Says There Is No Truth in Published Rumors.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Secretary Lansing today denied published reports that the United States had given Germany until Feb. 4 to make a definite answer on whether it intends to disavow the sinking of the Lusitania.

At the state department it was declared that Lusitania negotiations remain just where they stood yesterday in the week, when Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, transmitted to Berlin a new draft of the proposed agreement which embodied all the points for which the United States contends.

There could be no new move, officials declared, until the German foreign office had passed upon it. The new draft was made by Count von Bernstorff immediately after a conference with Secretary Lansing, and is understood to provide that Germany shall disavow the destruction of the ship, and acknowledge as a matter of law the rights of the neutrals who were lost. On this point the state department is understood to be very firm.

Secretary Lansing merely flatly denied that any date had been set as the limit for Germany's reply. Other state department officials declared they had no indication of when they would hear from Berlin.

released when the lower dam of the Southern California Mountain Water company broke late Thursday and devastated an area fifteen miles long and two miles wide. Property damage, it is thought, will reach $1,000,000. Scores of persons are still reported missing, and it is thought that a number of bodies have been carried out to sea. Hundreds of families are cut off from communication and are believed to be threatened with a food famine. Rescue parties find approach to the stricken region difficult as all the bridges between San Diego and the valley have been washed out.

One report said that twenty-five Japanese men, women and children were killed when the dam broke and twenty-five farm houses are known to have been swept away.

Telephone and telegraph communication with the valley is cut off but meager details have been received.

Had Storm in Montana.

Butte, Mont., Jan. 29.—Montana is in the grip of the worst storm in twenty years. Railroad traffic is demoralized by huge drifts and snowfalls and the situation is aggravated by temperatures ranging from 20 to 64 below zero. Missoula reports that the storm, which has been raging for forty-eight hours throughout Western Montana without any sign of abating, is the most severe of any within the memory of pioneers. The Northern Pacific and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroads have abandoned the movement of freight.

The Butte-Missoula passenger train of the Northern Pacific was wrecked by a broken rail with the thermometer 50 below zero but no passengers were injured. Billings reports the longest cold spell in seventeen years and a temperature of 26 below.

they can be addressed to only one quarter. "The lofty language in which the whole passage is couched would be very grave offense committed by very formidable offenders. When President Wilson says the American people are ready to fight for vindication of character and honor he is clearly commencing with more serious issues than mail bags."

His Germany's Actions.

The Daily News then reviews Germany's actions with regard to the Lusitania note from the United States and what it terms Austria's similar course in her submarine warfare, and declares the result has been "to degrade the ever-justly, in the eyes of both the United States and the world, the principles on which America took her stand and the sincerity of her own belief."

"It is impossible," the Daily News continues, "that President Wilson does not know this and care about it. He was always certain that he would make a strong effort to reaffirm his compromised position, without prying into the real aims of Col. House's mission. He may be deceived as certain that this was one of his main objects."

"It can only be an accident that the president's explosion has taken place since Col. House's arrival in Berlin. Presumably, he has failed, or is failing in his object, and the president is very alien from his ordinary temper and methods."

"The Machine Gun Co. of this city may have a new camping ground next summer. In order to give the men training in adapting themselves to a new territory, which of course, is very essential in real warfare, it is planned to hold a training camp this year at Chattanooga, Tenn. instead of at Camp Douglas, as usual."

day are delayed. Also the trains going out have been delayed because of the difficulty experienced in getting the engines to the coaches. The Great Northern train, which was due at Grand Forks started out each an hour late today owing to this difficulty.

The Northern Pacific train due from Twin Cities at 8:30 this morning did not start until 9:30, and the Great Northern train, on the same route, and due at the same time, started only after 10 o'clock, being held up at Kerwick, a few miles south of Superior. The Staples train due at 8:30 but the Northern Pacific road, was reported five hours late, but that was due to a breakdown for connections with the West, where severe delays have been suffered for a week. The train from Grand Forks over the Great Northern, due at 8:40, got in shortly after noon.

The Omaha passenger train from Chicago, due at 8:30 this morning, got in after 10 o'clock. The afternoon train from the Windy City was reported as only a few minutes late this morning, and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Limited from the Twin Cities got in only a few minutes late.

The Soo road reported its trains on time today, or only a few minutes late, but this morning, after three hours of delay, the range roads and the Canadian Pacific train from Duluth, which is considered good over its long run.

Freights Hopelessly Scrambled. As regards the movement of freights, there is delay on all lines. The delay is caused in the yards or outside of them, and the lines of the two cities at the Head of the Lakes are in a state of confusion.

Omaha trains have arrived at itasca on time and been on hour late. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Pacific and Great Northern trains have been delayed between West Duluth and Duluth, so that they have been later than the arrival at the city limits would seem to warrant.

Railroad men say that the present succession of storms, ever since the blizzard of the week-end, has created a havoc such as they have never experienced before at the Head of the Lakes. Scarcely would the snow of one storm be cleared away, and the trains were scheduled to run, and then like a regular schedule, than another storm comes along with more snow and drifts.

The whole delay is experienced again and the work has to be done over. The Omaha road has been getting its freights into Duluth right along, but from Tuesday up to last night did not get a freight out. Other roads have had to suspend their freights and have suffered such delays that the agents are pretty nearly ready to throw their schedules in the wastebasket and let 'em come as they please.

Don't let the snow in the west, and let it come as they please, no injuries or fatalities have been experienced.

Last night's snow is said to be the worst yet for the reason that it is heavy and wet, and is harder for the trains to buck and for the snowplows to clear. It is a cold snap on top of present conditions, and earnestly hope for a thaw so that the roads can pack down and become impervious to the winds that have been blowing it about and filling up the cuts and the dug-out places for trains to run through.

Since Jan. 1, up to noon today, about 25 inches of snow had fallen according to Weather Forecaster Richardson. The former record for heavy snow in January was in 1886, when 24.2 inches fell. During the last storm, up to noon today, 16.7 inches of snow fell, which is an average of the normal snowfall for the month, that being 10 inches. The average of snow on the ground, Mr. Richardson says, is 18 to 18 inches in the city and about 25 inches in the woods. Last year there was an average of only 7.2 inches in the city.

Street Cars Blocked. The street railway company had a hard fight to keep its lines open last night and this morning. Heavy drifts on Conner's point blocked the Duluth-Superior line during the night.

Says Roche.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Canada governs itself and is not influenced by Great Britain in any way; conscription never will be adopted in the dominion, and there are no war taxes on Canadian land, and never will be.

These were some of the assertions made here today by Dr. William J. Roche, minister of the interior of Canada, at a meeting of Canadian immigration agents from the United States. The meeting is designed to outline methods of informing Americans who planned to take up home-steads in Canada of the actual conditions in the dominion.

EXPLOSION IN BOMB FACTORY; NINE HURT

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 29.—One officer and three soldiers were seriously injured and five soldiers received minor burns and cuts today when an explosion occurred in the old Cunard building where a military class in bomb manufacturing was listening to a lecture by Capt. Hurd of the Sixth military division. The cause is not known.

Corporals Isnor, McPhee and Stong, all of the Sixth-fourth battalion, and Capt. Hurd, were the seriously injured.

Tax Order Held Up.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—State authorities will be restrained, temporarily at least, from employing the proposed new tax schedule promulgated by the state board of equalization. The first suit is launched in Morton county, with the tax commission asking the state's attorney of that county.

Russian Singer With Ballet Russe

During the last few days and even on the coldest nights, the number of men who braved police surveillance in order to get a bed free were few. The average is about twenty. As soon as they "registered" they were asked if they wanted a chance to earn a living, and whenever a man said "Yes" he was taken at his word.

"There is no excuse for any men who are not employed now," said Chief McKercher, "and they may as well understand that we don't intend to tolerate loafing around."

If conditions were different, and if work was not so plentiful we would not be so severe with them, perhaps."

CLOQUET SUNDAY AFFAIR

E. E. Jewett of Mill City to Speak at

Y. M. C. A.

Cloquet, Minn., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Y. M. C. A. has arranged for a series of lectures to be given on Sunday afternoons. The first will be given tomorrow afternoon by E. E. Jewett of Minneapolis, chief of the department of Theology.

Mr. Jewett gave a lecture at the "Y" last March, and was secured this year at the request of many who had heard him last year. His subject tomorrow afternoon will be "The Immortality of Influence." Mr. Jewett will also speak at the morning service in the Methodist church.

The lectures will be given in the Y. M. C. A. every other Sunday afternoon at 2:15 and are for both men and women.

FIRE IN FORT DEARBORN.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Chicago's most interesting fire spot, the site of the Fort Dearborn, was the scene of a fire which did $40,000 damage to the Fort Dearborn building. The principal damage was to the woodwork and merchandise. Fifteen girls escaped by the fire ladder.

BRANDEIS.

President Wilson having appointed Louis Demitt Brandeis to the vacancy in the supreme court of the United States, there will be loud groans from a small section of the population and loud applause from a large section—and both for exactly the same reason.

Brandeis, who is a Jew and sixty years old, is a great lawyer, a good citizen, a sound patriot, and a battler for the rights of the people whose name never has been tarnished by so much as the breath of a suspicion of self-seeking. Long ago he virtually abandoned a lucrative law practice, having earned enough to live on, to devote his life to the service of his fellow man. The list of great causes in which he has lately appeared on the side of good government, democracy and social justice is long and notable.

This high service he can continue on the supreme bench as well as elsewhere, as the partisan of law, justice and enthroned humanity. It is an appointment that will be distasteful to Special Privilege, that seeks to buttress itself by court-made precedents from which all favor of justice has long since been squeezed; but it will be correspondingly grateful to those who believe in a humanized interpretation of the law and in law maintained as a servant of the common good.

Brandeis, being a thorough Democrat and a man who places humanity higher than property, the man above the dollar, is considered a radical. But, like President Wilson, he is a radical with his feet on the ground and his head below the clouds. He will bring to the highest court in the land a broad humanity that it can be none the worse for; but he will bring, too, a sane, constructive temperament of the sort that builds up for the sake of progress, not blindly destroys for the sake of mere disturbance.

It is a splendid appointment, one that is vastly creditable to the intellect no less than to the heart of the president.

Now that the presidential primary law has been declared valid, we may look for a recrudescence of the "favorite son" nonsense.

NATURE'S HARDEST JOB HEREABOUTS.

Here's January about gone, and the lake not frozen over yet.

But don't worry about it. It never fails.
Sometimes it is delayed so long that it seems to have missed fire—if that hot figure of speech is permissible in such a frigid association—but it never does miss fire.

But Nature, in its task of freezing over Lake Superior—or such parts of it as it does freeze over—has a job that would exhaust any patience less inexhaustible than Nature's. It takes the kind of patience that will spend geologic ages manufacturing a valley or a fertile plain, to complete this task of freezing over a large, uneasy body of water.

It is a large body of water, as you can see for yourself. What you see from Duluth is only a very small part of its 31,500 square miles. It is seldom wholly calm, and Herr J. Frost's business is greatly complicated by water in agitation.

Often during the early winter comes a cold spell that will start a thin scum of ice;
and then a breeze will shatter it and scatter
it far and wide—heaping it in masses, piling it on the beaches, driving it hither and yon.
Nature's busy, cunning work is all undone;
and this may happen several times.

Then, just when those who haven't lived here long are beginning to worry about the ice crop, the combination of calm weather and low temperature lasting long enough for the purpose comes along. Jack Frost is a busy workman, and he is alert to take advantage of every such chance.
So some morning you wake up and look out over a field of ice as far as you can see. It isn't very thick ice, and even then a northeaster would tumble the field into ruins; but the northeaster doesn't come,
and the ice thickens from minute to minute until there is a thick covering of it that will defy the winds, except on the outer edges, and that can be guaranteed to stick until the sun gets high enough in the spring to weaken it.

The lake does not, of course, freeze over its whole extent. There was a particularly cold winter some years ago when many thought it did, but fishermen then reported that though the ice ran farther than Grand Marais, though Thunder Bay's big ice field embraced Isle Royale and beyond, and though Chequamegon bay's solid ice ran far outside the Apostle Islands, still there was a wide open space out in the widest, deepest waste of water that lies in the square that has Isle Royale, Slate island, Michi-picon island and Keweenaw point at its four corners.

Lake Superior never freezes all over, and often its freezing is late; but it never misses, and not even the end of February is time to despair of it.

Those who thought the president lacked the elements of "punch" are respectfully referred to that New York speech.

THE DANGER IN TARIFF AGITATION.

The chief menace to business stability is not high tariffs or low tariffs but the threat of tariff agitation and tariff changes.
There would be as much menace to business and industry in a proposal now to revise the whole tariff question and make it an issue before the people as there was when the tariff was high. Then, advocates of protection pleaded against revision because it would disturb business. Agitation and revision would disturb business now quite as much; and that's one reason why you are not going to hear so much about the tariff from the Republicans during the campaign as the country has grown accustomed to hearing. Business is for a tariff commission and for taking the tariff out of politics. The Republicans know this, and therefore the stop pedal will be on tariff talk this campaign.

Jacob H. Schiff, a lifelong Republican, shocked the Republican club of New York the other day by telling its members of other countries that the tariff is a Republican issue.

We have prosperity, and I believe it will last. We may have a slight setback at times, but it will continue after this terrible war is over.

I am a man with a hyphen. I am a Republican-Democrat. I voted for Wilson, the first Democratic president I have voted for in fifty years. I want to say that MY HEART IS WITH THE RE-PUBLICANS, BUT MY COMMON SENSE IS WITH THE DEMOCRATS.

We are prosperous and will continue prosperous. Nothing can stop that great trend this, and standing here on this holy Republican ground, I say that if you renew the tariff agitation in the next campaign and threaten the country again with a high protective tariff the people will have none of it. I say this, not because I love the Republican party less, but because I love it more.

G. E. Roberts, assistant to the president of the great National City bank of New York, also talked sense.

I have a natural bias in favor of the protective principle, and do not believe this country can afford to suddenly and radically change its established industrial policy; but I am convinced that the protective principle must be applied with more discrimination than heretofore. It must be able to develop foreign trade. The old rolling method is too crude. The protective policy must not be a policy of isolation and exclusion, not if you want foreign trade. It must allow for a fair exchange of foreign products with other countries.

These are simply two able men—Republicans and protectionists—who have learned to discard party blinders, to see things as they are, and to speak their thoughts right out in meeting—even in the meeting of a "Republican club."

And, Republicans or not, they both talk plain common sense.

Is there a River of Doubt in the West Indies?

FARMERS' BOOKS AND WHO READS THEM.

An Eastern publisher declares that books written especially for farmers are the hardest books of all to sell and the least profitable. He says that no business or professional in the world has more literature published in its behalf, and that no vocational literature in the world is less read. When it was suggested that this might be due to the enormous quantities of bulletins issued by the state and Federal governments, he said that couldn't be it because the bulletins aren't read, either.

Yet a good many of these books are sold, or they would not be published. Who reads them? This publisher is sure it isn't the farmers. Their meager book shelves show little interest, on the whole, in the technical publications of their trade. Public libraries take the most of them, he believes, probably under the impression that it is their duty to do so; though if those for whom they are intended won't buy them and won't even read the free literature that is so plentiful and so easy to get, probably they won't take them out of the libraries.

Of course this publisher knows his business; but somehow we can't help thinking that his view is too pessimistic. For one thing, though the old type of farmer de-spises "book farming" and thinks there is nothing that can be added to the farming lore that he got from his father and that his father got from his father before him, still the colleges of agriculture—not to speak of agricultural high schools and the growing list of elementary and secondary schools that teach agricultural science—surely must be turning out an annual crop of farmers with a different attitude toward book farming and farming books.

And then, if the real farmers do not read farmers' bulletins and farming books, there is a type of paper farmers inhabiting the cities that does read them. There is an amazing number of people in the cities—clerks, bookkeepers and the like—who nurse eagerly the instinctive kinship of man to the soil. They dream that some day they will have enough money saved up—or gained miraculously through some sudden stroke of fortune—to buy themselves farms, to which in their declining years they will turn and apply the plans and theories they have evolved through years of reading and study and planning, during which their paper farming has been a delightful hobby and their dream of life on the farm has been a beacon of hope and a warming light of interest in life. These men buy and read farm books, and doubtless it is their im-portunities, in part at least, that induce the libraries to buy them.

So here is one market, and a steady and reliable one, for farm books. The pity of it is that so few of these book farmers ever evolve reality out of their dreams.

And the coming crops of farmers taught out of books in the schools and colleges—surely their book shelves will be less meager. Surely they will buy farm books, and not only farm books but the books that are indispensable to any well rounded human existence.

Speaking of the Republican convention, what sort of a dark horse would Dr. Cook make?

HOW MONEY MAKES MONEY.

A Chicago investment banking house in an illuminating pamphlet tells how the average worker can by a little self-denial and persistence provide himself during his working years with adequate insurance against the rainy days of unemployment and old age.

It is assumed that at the age of twenty the worker is getting not less than fifty dollars a month; that three years later his pay will be increased from sixty-five to a hundred dollars a month; and that at thirty he will be earning twenty dollars a week.
This is a modest minimum all the way through.

The booklet suggests that for three years after going to work at twenty the worker lay aside five dollars a month; that after three years he increase his saving to ten dollars, and that when he is getting twenty dollars a week he shall save fifteen dollars a month.

These sums are not large. Any worker can manage them. In the early years he is single, in all probability, perhaps still living at home. Later on, when the saving habit has become fixed, even when he is married he can still keep it up at the modest rate proposed. Of course if he earns more he can save more—if he will.

Listen to what even these moderate savings will accomplish. It is proposed that these regular savings shall be first put into the savings bank, to draw savings bank interest; but that as fast as they reach a sum large enough, they be invested in mortgage securities that pay six per cent. This can be done, and the bank doubtless will be glad to help the depositor do it.

When this worker is forty, what will be the result?

In the twenty years he will have saved $2,820. But by keeping his savings busy at six per cent, they will have earned for him in that time $2,071 in addition. For every dollar he has put into the savings fund, interest has added seventy-four cents.

His savings and their earnings at forty will be enough to buy a farm or start in business. Or, put at interest, without further saving they will bring him $24,500 a month for the rest of his life and leave $4,891 to his heirs. If he keeps on at the same rate until he is sixty, a little further figuring will show that he can then retire with enough to live on for the rest of his days.

How many are there in middle or later life who can look back and wish they had started something like this at twenty? There are too many.

How many are there at twenty who are beginning to learn how to save and to give money a chance to make money for them by starting a savings bank fund? There are too few.

But it's never too late to mend, and it's never too late for those still earning—to start a little reserve fund in the savings bank.

Of course Duluth voters might express their preferences for president, with the understanding that those preferred should act as city commissioners.

A FORGOTTEN HOUSEHOLD CONVENIENCE.

Why is it that so few modern houses have suitable places to store apples and potatoes and the like during the winter?
Do the architects forget it?
Do the home-builders forget it?

Or has intelligent thrift become so unfashionable a thing that everybody scorns everything that bears the remotest resemblance to it?

It is true that many modern homes have "fruit cellars" in them; but they are merely rooms partitioned off from the rest of the basement, utterly unfitted for the use indicated by their title. The partitions are, too thin, or heating pipes run through them,
so that they shrivel and potatoes decay.
Such a thing as laying in a winter's stock of potatoes at half or less the winter price, or a few barrels of apples at about the same saving, is so rare nowadays as to be almost non-existent.

Yet there must be a fine satisfaction in having a cellar stocked with fragrant fruits and vegetables for the winter's use, and in reflecting while you consume them that they are costing you about half what they would cost if you bought them in the market at winter prices.

It is possible to isolate thermally a section of your basement, so that in ventilated, frost-proof rooms you can keep your winter's supplies without danger of spoiling, and thus beat the high cost of living if you can't beat the cost of high living. Your architect can fix it for you if you ask him—or if he can't you can get an architect who can—and it ought not to add much to the cost of the house, either.

And certainly what little it costs will be returned to you many times over in saving on the cost of your food supplies.

The chief difficulty in the way is the heating plant; but that can be put at one side instead of in the center, and with properly lined partitions your vegetable room can be made to serve your winter's need of vegetables and fruit, besides furnishing suitable storage room for the jellies and preserves and pickles that are "put up" in the summer and eaten up in the winter with vast satisfaction and contentment.

Suppose when you build your home you see to it that the architect does not overlook this very important though apparently forgotten household convenience.

And don't let's blame the architect too much, either. The fault is largely ours, because we haven't been as much in the habit of figuring out thrifty things to do as we should, by any means. If people demanded such conveniences in their homes, the architects would provide them. The fact that so few architects think of it shows that few homebuilders think of it, either.

Though for that matter it wouldn't hurt the architects a bit to suggest it in going over the preliminaries with their clients.
Then if a client didn't want to be thrifty with a proper vegetable room, he needn't be.

That twelve thousand-dollar bank robbery in Chicago at least took a cent out of the Twin Cities for a few minutes.

SHOULD ONE CACKLE?

When a hen lays an egg it has performed a very worthy service to society, a feat wholly creditable and praiseworthy. The giving of this most excellent bit of food is an act deserving all possible credit.

The hen, apparently, knows all this. So when it lays an egg it heralds the fact to the world. It cackles loudly and proudly.

Is the hen's an example we should follow? That is, its example in cackling—not its example in laying eggs.

In some ways it seems a profitable thing to do. Only when we hear some people do their cackling it gives us pause. Not for worlds would we have people feel toward us as we feel toward the fellow who is perpetually cackling about what a great fellow he is and what prodigies he is doing.

And yet, perhaps there are other ways of cackling. Perhaps there are quieter ways, ways more in harmony with our natural modesty; and if so, surely we ought to cackle that way.

There isn't much sense in hiding one's light under a bushel. To be sure, it is a great comfort to be satisfied in your own mind that you are doing the right thing, and that you are achieving things that give you the right to be proud of yourself.

There are people so self-contained and self-sufficient that that is enough for them.
If other folks happen to find out about these achievements, all right; if they don't, why, that's all right, too.

But most of us are different. If we do a thing we think worth while, we want people to know about it—especially we want them to applaud loudly. We can't expect anything like that if we don't let them know what we have done. So—modestly, we hope, and perhaps somewhat timidly—we cackle.

Then, too, perhaps this thing we have achieved is of real importance and value to mankind, and it is therefore to mankind's interest that it should know about it. In that case, the modesty that prevents cackling would be a positive injury to society; and of course we all of us want to avoid being harmful to society, even if we can't manage to be helpful.

The problem is to avoid the extremes of that retiring modesty whose achievements do not count because they are concealed, and that flaunting self-glorification of the vain which fills the air and makes the welkin ring with its cackled peans of self-praise. Humility is a virtue, but it is a virtue that can quickly degenerate into a vice, particularly when it takes the form of those Uriah Heeps who cackle self-praise of their humbleness. Pride is a virtue, too, and it degenerates as easily into the vice of those who split the ears of their friends with their loud celebrations of their own virtue and great achievements.

On the whole, we believe people should cackle—a little. How much they should cackle depends, of course, on what they have to cackle about. They should study that peculiar quirk in human nature that brings the loudest cackling from those who have the least to cackle about. They should note, by close observation of others, that often one is the poorest judge of the value of his own achievements. They should avoid, too, that morbid humility and self-depreciation which make a man suspicious of his own opinions and acts.

We should cackle—quietly, decently and with becoming modesty—when we have something to cackle about. Failure to cackle at all is hiding one's light under a bushel—and anything more ignominiously useless than a cheery light blazing away under the concealment of a bushel, it would be hard to imagine.

When woman suffrage becomes general, will it bring with it a development to be known as "favorite daughterism"?

The Case Against Alcohol.

John Koren in the Atlantic: Like the common run of alcohol literature, the practical temperance policies insisted upon are not based on real knowledge won through methodical observation and intensive study of the social aspects of the drink question. Instead, our fact basis is amazingly weak. We do not know definitely the extent to which alcohol is abused within any state or any of its civil subdivisions, such as city, village, or rural district. We have no clear conception of the characteristics of the different types of alcoholic persons; we have not penetrated their lives; the kind and amount of injury they do themselves and others are known only in the most general way and have not been ascertained in cases. The development of alcoholism in the individual, and the circumstances of an individual or social character that give rise to and perpetuate it, have not been studied. We de-claim about the use of alcohol as a social disease, yet are curiously ignorant of its deeper-lying causes, its manifestations and progression. There is no competent social organ delegated to observe the ravages of this disease and lay bare the many-sided conditions that determine it. In fact, we lack the experience needed in devising new measures of protection, as well as in tracing the effect against the drink evil of those we have adopted.

That "Olive Branch"

By Sanford.

Washington, Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The political general staff of the Bull Moose party has cackled at Chicago and laid down the law to the Standpatters, and it is this: Let us make the platform and name the ticket, or we will sock you again under the fifth rib as we did in 1912.
That is all you can make of it, and Boss Barnes accepts it at what it means and in a public utterance declines to be a delegate to the "regular" convention at Chicago June 2.
If there is a thoroughly disgusted politician in all our land at this moment his name is Barnes. He sees the writing on the wall and reads nothing else except that tremendous name written there—Teddy.

The Bull Moose convention is called to meet the same day the Standpat layout convenes. Why? To make the Standpaters believe, The Bull Moose utters a declaration of "principles" and serves notice on the Standpaters that they must dance to their piping. Scurrilous words are vented about "machines" and such, which is rubbing it in in rather cruel fashion. What is left to Penrose? Will he do as his fellow-boss, Barnes, has done, and flee the wrath to come? It will be hard on him, but he must. He was deep in the council chamber at Chicago along with Perkins and the rest. Can Penrose and White amalgamate? That would be disgraceful. It would be flat miscegenation, that all virtue abhors.

This preachment is more prominent than all the others in this manifesto of the Bull Moose—"Damn the German vote." That is flat. That not only looks like Teddy and sounds like Teddy, but it is Teddy. Here is Wilson standing midway between one side that demands a war against Germany, and the other side that would make war against him. He comes in for the severest criticism by the Bull Moose, who preached an Americanism, as they call it, that means, if it means anything, Moloch to the fore. That is Teddy.

Then there is the tariff—the Bull Moose considers that a negligible quantity, to be handed over to a commission to deal with it on lines that will make it acceptable to your free trader and your protectionist alike.
That sort of deal is admirable if it were not impossible. A bed of live coals would be luxury if only we could imagine it a bed of fragrant roses.

Well, they call this flaming sword that the Bull Moose has put at the gate of the paradise of a majority an "olive branch." We are to believe that peace is established between Barnes and Roosevelt, Penrose and Pinchot, Cannon and Murdock, but it is stipulated that the dove of peace is from the cote of Theodore Roosevelt, and its "olive branch of peace" is like that of that other Oliver of England, of long ago, who insisted on being every man himself. Teddy wrote a life of Cromwell.

There was in ancient Rome, Caius Marcius.
He was made of a little better clay than the other Romans, and one of his faithful followers reported of him:

"The shepherd knows not thunder from a labor."

More than I know the sound of Marcius'
"tongue."

That is Teddy. And the Bull Moose will hearken to no other tongue except his. True, they lay down a lot of generalizations, such as you must name a man acceptable to us; but everybody knows that Teddy is the only one they would accept.

The meanest man in the world is he who would cut your throat because you will not go to heaven on his road, and next meanest is he that would accuse you, try you, condemn you, sentence you, and execute you for treason because you are not as patriotic as he.

And hence we have this cursed nonsense about "Americanism" that is about God's patience and the king's English in our politics all next summer. If you are for Wilson you are not a patriot. If you are for Americanism you must get on the bandwagon along with us and the other hoboes that Falstaff would not go through Coventry with us, and about for Teddy.

That is the scheme—to nominate this only American, Roosevelt, and every follower who opposes him will be tracking in the patriotism.
Get up that hippodrome, put the Colonel at the head of it, and let him charge San Juan hill a dozen or so times between each rise and fall of sun during the entire campaign, and there is no telling what would happen.

Of course the reaction would come and the "Americanism" would be the most disastrous and the most odious thing in all the world, but the mischief would be done. The older I get the more cordially do I endorse the definition of old Sam Johnson gave to the word patriotism—"the last resort of a scoundrel."

Why, there was a party of 'em in England, and they had the watch cry "patriot." Pulteney was at the head of it. The first Pitt belonged to it. It numbered among its advocates the very flower of English statesmen and English letters. They got power, all cussing old Sir Robert Walpole, as our set call about "Americanism" cuss Wilson.
What did they do when they succeeded?

They went all to finders, and it took a search warrant to find an English statesman to confess that he had ever been a "patriot."

That may happen in our country.

Queer Case.

War Stories.

I'm tired of the stories of battle, that word painters send from the front, of peasants who perish like cattle, performing the patriots' stunt; I'm tired of the gun and the armor, of all things that slaughter and slay; so tell me a yarn of the farmer who shucks eighty bushels a day. In the lists of the butchered, diurnal, there's nothing I see that enchants; I'm tired of the major and colonel, with blood on their bibs and their pants; I'm tired of the spy and the spoiler, of dead ones that litter the sward; O, tell me a tale of the toiler, who's whacking up wood by the cord. I'm tired of the boys in the trenches, with shoes full of water and loam; far better the plumbers, whose wrenches are fixing the pipes in my home. I've read of the movements of legions, I've read of advance and retreat, of ashes and ruin in regions, where once grew the corn and the wheat; and now I am weary of reading these stories of carnage and gore, of myriads wounded and bleeding, of hosts who will wake never more; so tell me a tale of the granger who curries his mules in the morn, who digs up the eggs from the manger, and shucks eighty bushels of corn.

"Who's Who in America"

PASQUALE, the bootblack, will some day be a grandfather. So will Swenson, your new janitor, and, by the favor of Providence and his lusty progeny, Demetrios, the Greek waiter at the chophouse, will in process of time open a bottle of good Cyprian in celebration of his daughter's fertility.

The youngsters are already sitting cheek by jowl with yours—daily rubbing away further bits of the insulating prejudice with which their elders have aborted mutual comprehension.

Slowly the bootblack stand will grow into a row of chairs, with a hat-blocking machine and a cigar case on the side, and we shall eventually read Pasquale's name in the tax lists, and behold him lolling in his limousine or whizzing past in a sky roadster.

Another glance in the prophetic crystal foretells that Swenson will swear at the incompetence of later janitors and bewail the scarcity of efficient custodians for his string of apartments and tenements.

And Demetrios, early sensing the profits in anilined glucose, will learn the cares of business greatness when his waster sons should be reducing his responsibilities instead of his bank balance.

They'll be top-side men on the see-saw when lots of us, for whom they temporarily wipe boots and set chairs, are bumping on the ground.

Thus our national vitality constantly freshens with alien infusion.

We cannot hold to type, as older nations maintain their characteristics.

Ten million direct descendants of the late lamented Mr. Chin have regularly mated and bred to spawn of the equally fecund Mr. Chow. Chinaman is always Chinaman—a primary yellow man.

And there's the answer to his baffling complacency—he does not blend, therefore he neither bends nor mends his ways. Sire and scion, they are minted with identical dies—an unalloyed coinage since Hia's forebears crawled through the Indian passes.

But we, laboratories of racial chemistry, the greatest anthropological experimental stations in the path of history, decade on decade, play with myriad mixtures of temperament—quicken the peasant with the dreamer, warm the torpid northman with tropic imagination, brighten the drab Saxon with streaks of Latin brilliancy.

Blend succeeds blend and, in geometrical progression, lavishly provide substance for still further strains. Prejudices and bigotries are eliminated in the crossing. The toxins of intolerance are dissolved—the synthetic blood revitalizes communities weak with inbreeding. Back and forth—from vein to vein—the changing lymph passes. The weedy sap of the Old World slowly alters, its poisons and passions reduced in the dilution to a tonic for fresh inspirations.

Here and there a little foulness works in. But it does not persist—only still peoples grow stagnant and become vile, and while the random unfit from a stagnant land occasionally introduce a defiling impulse in the national stream, it dies in the current. Scum vanishes from swift waters.

We create a language, an art, a thought all our own. Each generation is an altered fabric. Already the sparse threads of south Europe increase in the pattern. First the Teuton and the Celt modify the Anglo-Saxon design; now it displays strong Slavic, Scandinavian and Aegean impulses, which accentuate with the years, to show, in turn, a still dim, but ever stronger, Semite influence.

As the metal with which these lines are printed must be thrown back into the pot and re-tensiled with antimony, before it is again fit to furnish good type, so in each generation we escape atrophy by the induction of a strengthening alien element to vitalize our mettle.

The new types cast well, and each prints a clean, sharp hour.

The melting-pot preserves our force and originality.

Each epoch produces its own version of "Who's Who in America."

And therein lies the promise of the Republic. The Declaration of Independence abolished "ancestors."

The Chinese figure differently—and look what a hel-wa mess they've made of it!

They built a great wall to keep out all foreigners, and Progress has ever since been hammering for admittance.

Folly Pays Wisdom's Bills.

THE second-class manufacturer and his double-dealer pay the advertiser's bills. They stimulate the demand for satisfaction and continually educate new patrons for honest concerns. They can't do business as cheaply, because they can't get enough trade to operate economically, and so they keep unknown merchandise to keep their profits unknown.

The store that doesn't advertise doesn't believe in advertised lines. Everybody knows the price—there's no chance to make a "little on the side."

If there weren't unsafe shops and unfair methods of retailing, there'd be no reason to prefer one trading place to another.

The store that doesn't advertise annually graduates thousands of customers in the school of bitter experience and makes the lifelong believers in dependable goods and straight merchants.

As big stores grow bigger, their policies broaden, facilities increase and overhead expenses are reduced—all to your benefit. Retailers can't crowd aisles and profit simultaneously. You're indebted to the dealer who doesn't believe in advertising for the money you save through a store that does.

Folly always pays Wisdom's bills.

CASTING THE TOW LINE INTO THE TEMPESTUOUS SPORTING SEAS

John E. MacGregor a Wise Choice as President of the Northwestern Curling Association—Will Some One Please Define an Amateur?—Wisconsin Boxing Commissioners Visit Duluth—Carr versus Waino Ketonen.

IT MAY seem a far cry from the 1916 bonspiel of the Northwestern Curling association to the one that is to be held in 1917, but if you were to span the time distance by the talk that is being bruited about, you would not be exactly right. Right now curlers of this town are predicting that the 1917 spiel will contain the entrees of one hundred rinks. The answer—John E. MacGregor.

When this live wire and thoroughly efficient hustler was chosen as president of the Northwestern Curling association, curlers and those who have been watching spels for the past ten years, remarked, "We're going to have a live spiel next year, John MacGregor will show them how to put on a real bonspiel."

If a whole lot of persons are not sadly mistaken, that's just what Jack MacGregor will do.

In the point of playing there was no fault to find with the 1916 bonspiel, but if the general remarks are taken as a criterion to judge from, there was a certain liveliness missing. The old "pep" wasn't there. Maybe it was the absence of the Canadian curlers. There's no use of talking those boys from Winnipeg and other portions of the Dominion help; in fact, without them there's something that doesn't seem the same.

Maybe that was why the 1916 spiel was more quiet than some of the other spels held here; anyway, it was in some respects. Now it is being predicted that one hundred rinks will be down here next year. John MacGregor has been putting a lot of spice and go into amateur sports these many years around here. He's a whole-souled worker, a level-headed chap with the kind of a personality that wins respect and inspires confidence. When the Northwestern Curling association chose Jack MacGregor as president, it is widely believed that a most excellent choice was made.

What Is an Amateur?
SOME day a wise man, with some of the 99 per cent mental attributes of the late and well known Solomon, will arise and define what an amateur is. Many flannel mouthed oafs are today talking themselves blue in the face endeavoring to define what an amateur is.

They say Chick Evans, the golf player, is practically a professional because he earns his livelihood by writing golf. The argument is, that were it not for his ability as a golf player Evans would not be able to make anything as a writer. In other words, Evans utilizes his ability as a golf player to get by.

It is time that a sane and practical ruling was made to sustain and succor the earnest young athlete in times of sore need and great temptation. For instance, there were those Yale boys who played summer baseball for bread and flop. Now would any sensible man dream that these oiled eyed profs were going to leave these kids out of the purity of amateurism because they got cats and sleeping place for playing a little baseball?

As long as a boy is compelled by eligibility rules to be up in four studies, it is hardly possible that professionalism is going to invade the colleges or academies of the country. Why not employ some reasoning power, plain, sane, every day kind, and let the husky brigade gain some clear idea of just what is expected from the blushing amateur? It would not prove a bad idea.

JAPANESE ARE GOLFERS

Little Brown Men Are Showing Expertness in Ancient Scotch Game.

Americans interested in sport, returning from Japan, report that the Japanese are rapidly assimilating occidental sports in general, just as they did baseball following its introduction into the land of Nippon. Gold, tennis and motor racing are all gaining devotees by the hundreds, and some of the Japanese players are showing a proficiency on the court and links that promises to make them formidable opponents in the course of a few years.

In a recent discussion ancient sport in general, and golf in particular, a prominent Japanese, who was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania not so many years ago, said:

Golf Fills the Bill.
"You know we really have no game perhaps excepting tennis which a man may continue as his years pile up, and we know that exercise is necessary to keep fit. Golf fills the bill for us. As a nation we are fond of games. Wrestling has been compulsory for centuries have all Japanese gentlemen, and recent years have seen our schools taking up baseball, tennis, hockey and football with very considerable success."

George W. Guthrie, the American ambassador, who is an enthusiastic golfer, has a beautiful challenge to the Tokyo club will probably be selected as the club champion, and the club will remain the property of the club, the winner of the trophy will be the winner of the honor and the country he represents. The final round will always be played on the Fourth of July.

Several of the other principal cities have established golf clubs, notably Yokohama and Kobe, while in other sections organizations of a similar character are in progress of formation. The turf in Japan lends itself easily to ideal fairways and greens, and the artificial bunkers and hazards to test the skill of the best players. Another indication of strides golf is making in Japan is the fact that a publication devoted entirely to the game and bearing the title, "The Bunker," is now published monthly in Tokyo.

Will Be a Success.
The game will be a success in Japan, returning tourists say, is certain. They point out that the younger Japanese generation, which was chiefly educated in the United States and England, and is now mostly engaged in successful commerce at home, means to establish there the same healthful sport and games which they found in occidental countries. Horse racing has taken on new interest and successful automobile and motorcycle race meets are being held at frequent intervals.

JOHNNY KILBANE IS THE REAL CLASS AS A BOXER

Holder of the Featherweight Title Has Outboxed and at Times Outfought All of the Ring Men of His Own Weight—Can Hit With Either Hand.

Philadelphia, Jan. 29.—Now that the feather-weight championship bout between Johnny Kilbane, champion and George Chaney, challenger, is assured for March 17 in Baltimore, boxing fans are speculating over the relative merits of both boxers.

Kilbane and Chaney each has his band of admirers, and then again, there is another group not vitally interested in either lad. Kilbane's followers see nothing but a decisive knockout victory for him; on the other hand, Chaney's adherents believe that Baltimore will produce its third world's champion in three different classes.

The neutral band of fight followers figures Kilbane to easily outbox his rival, writes Joseph Dugan in the North American, but Chaney has a wonderful chance to cop the title with his deadly left-hand wallop that has felled many an aspiring youngster.

It is hard to figure how Kilbane will be decisively whipped by his powerful hitting rival. The Clevelanders are a master workman. He can box as well as any of the leading performers in the country and has outclassed every feather-weight opponent shipped into the ring with him.

Kilbane Is Crafty Fighter.
Kilbane is one of the fast glove wielders in the world today. He can hit going away or tearing in. He carries a one-punch knockout wallop in either pit, which can be attested to by Eddie O'Keefe, put to sleep with one swish of that awful left, and Irish Patsy Cline, sent on his first visit to dreamland with a terrible right hand hook.

Every time out in this city the champion has outclassed his opponents at boxing and hitting. True, he has been given some close battles, especially two by Eddie Morgan, but it is the conviction of the fans who witnessed the bouts that the titleholder, had he been extended more, would have done a great deal more damage to the Britisher than he did.

No fighter gets against the sniffling Johnny carries. Even if they were able to land effectively on the champ, because they didn't know how to punch, and again, because Johnny refused to allow any dangerous wallows to land on him.

Chaney, on the other hand, is easy to hit. Two instances of this are his bouts here with Johnny Dundee, the flashy Brooklyn fighter, on April 18, 1914, and with Jimmy Fox, the little Californian, on March 17, 1915.

Easily Landed on Chaney.
In his clash with Dundee, Chaney stopped a few dozen punches with his face. Dundee's left time after time played a tut-tut on George's face. Philadelphia fans can't see how Chaney can possibly take many of Kilbane's raps without going out. The same thing occurred in the battle with Fox. The latter was outpointing Chaney by a wide margin in landing effectively at long range until the Baltimorean finally got close enough to Fox to finish him with a series of body-smashing rights and lefts.

Chaney's big victories have been scored through taking a punch to get in close and land one. Invariably George comes rushing in, virtually unprotected, swinging away with both hands. If he tries this with Kilbane, Johnny will drop him sure with his right or left.

Saw Kilbane Finish Cline.
Kilbane proved conclusively to Philadelphia patrons that he is far superior to any fighter sent against him here. Irish Patsy Cline, the New York lad, who was making a wonderful showing in his bouts here, trimming star after star, begged for a match with Kilbane. Jack McGulgan didn't want to give in to him, saying he was too inexperienced, but Cline insisted, and the battle was arranged.

When Kilbane really cut loose with a burst of speed, he skipped far ahead of the Gothamite. Cline was knocked flat with a terrific right hook thirty seconds after the start of the second round.

George Chaney sat at the ringside and witnessed the easy manner in which Kilbane disposed of the New Yorker. Kilbane knows what a powerful hitter Kilbane is; he knows the champion can box rings around any other man in his class. Chaney also knows that he can hit himself, but he certain realizes that Kilbane can outbox him by a wide margin.

When the two best featherweights in the country enter the ring for their 16-round gallop in Baltimore on March 17, the champion will undoubtedly be the favorite, but Chaney will have plenty of backers.

"I THINK DARCY IS MADE FOR ME," SAYS THE PHANTOM

Mike Gibbons States His Confidence in His Ability to Beat His Great Australian Rival—St. Paul Boxer Says He Can Slug With the Rough Boys.

Mike Gibbons was asked last evening whether he believed he could defeat Lester Darcy, just at present the most talked-of middleweight in the universe.

"From what I've heard, I think he is made for me," came the reply from the famous St. Paul boxer.

Clad in carnival costume, Gibbons came up to the Head of the Lakes yesterday afternoon to watch Jack Dillon step ten rounds last evening. The Phantom occupied a ringside seat and those keen blue eyes of his followed every move of the man who has often been spoken of as one bird Gibbons has no stomach for.

"I have some dope on Darcy," said Mike, "or I think I have. If what I think I know is true, this fellow is just my groove. He's a slugger, they tell me, and I think I can beat any of the sluggers."

"Sure, I'll fight Dillon. I will let him make any reasonable weight he can, 160, 122 pounds, maybe, but you know I'd rather have him at 158." Here Gibbons smile flashed forth, a shrewd smile at that, and in observing that smile one wondered after all if Mike was spoofing regarding that 162 pounds.

"Maybe I'll go to Australia, some day. I'd like to fight Darcy, because I think he's my meat. I would rather meet Darcy in this country. We could get a wonderful house over here."

Mike Has Been Hit.
Observing Mike Gibbons causes one to believe that Mike has traveled a rough pugilistic path. Jim Corbett's face is free of scars or disfigurement, while other superlatively clever boxers have escaped ring marks. There's Fackey McFarland. But Mike Gibbons bears the indelible marks of his trade. His nose is flattened and crooked and he wears the hallmark of a cauliflower ear. "You must be able to take them," he observed. "Your map is somewhat deformed."

"That's where I have it on most of these birds," quoth Gibbons. "I should have a manager to say all this stuff. I know, but I believe I can outbox any man in the world and when it comes to fighting I think I can hold my own with the rough and slugger boys. Sure, I've taken them on the jaw, and what's more, I can take them on the jaw."

A clean-cut chap, a lad with a head that is turned out along almost intellectual lines, only the marked facial features and the athletic turn of the shoulders brand Mike Gibbons as a fighting man.

Gibbons has blue eyes that carry a sunny smile, and yet there is the intense police of gaze concentration that all great fighters possess. Great marksmen possess those flaming points of concentration of their pupils. Gibbons has the keen eyes of a sharpshooter and he is perhaps the greatest sharpshooter of the ring.

The first half year of any consequence came in 1884, when the Union league was organized and went after the National league and American association, which then ran the sport. This was much the same as the recent Federal scrap, only on a much smaller scale. The Union association proceeded to raid the other leagues as much as possible.

The league was backed by Henry V. Lucas, a young St. Louis millionaire. He kicked up such a fuss during the winter of 1884-85 he was offered a National league franchise, which he accepted. The other seven clubs went broke and their backers lost small fortunes.

The Most Bitter Baseball War Ever.
The most bitter baseball war ever waged was the Brotherhood war of 1890. That was the year the players revolted, largely because of a rule passed by the National league which set an individual salary limit of $2,000 a year.

Tener Brotherhood Secretary.
The Brotherhood, or Players' league, procured the best players of the country as well as the popular idols of the day, had convenient parks and lots of capital behind them, but the league was poorly managed, and after practically having the Nationals beaten the players themselves lost out.

Many prominent figures in the recent Federal war had important posts on the Brotherhood side in the war of 1890. John K. Tener, president of the National league, was secretary of the Brotherhood, but he let his official duties interfere with his playing, as he won something like a million dollars and dropped fifteen for the Pittsburgh Brotherhoods.

Tener was one of the greatest defenders of players' rights; in fact, he was the Ed Reulbach of the Brotherhood. He never played professional ball after his Brotherhood experience. It is said his chagrin over the desertion of the Brotherhood players back to the National league was the cause of his retirement, although the Pittsburgh pitching average may have had something to do with it.

Johnston Thwarted Ward.
John Montgomery Ward was president of the Players' league, a big power in the organization and manager of the Brooklyn Brotherhood team. He almost became president of the National league, and would likely be president of the league now but for the activities of Ban Johnson. Ward started the Federal league war as business manager of the Brooklyn Federals and as a general adviser. Arthur F. Lewis, the Yankee's scout, managed the Boston Brotherhood league champions.

After the collapse of the Brotherhood the National league and its reserve clause remained supreme, but trouble threatened in the form of the American association, the second major league, which had a prosperous career in the late '80s. The war with the association followed immediately on the heels of the players uprising in 1891, and resulted from a ruling of the national board, which took players Bierbauer and Stoney away from the association.

National League Reduced.
Peace was brought about in 1891, through the merger of the National league and the association into one twelve-club league, and for the next eight years the National league was known as the National league and the American association.

The reduction of the National league to an eight-club league in 1898, leaving Washington and Baltimore open in the East and Chicago and St. Paul in the West, opened the way for the American league's war, which ran from 1900 to 1903.

The American league, formerly the Western league, failed to get the consent of the National league to put a club into Chicago in 1900, but Comiskey established one there anyway. However, the real war did not start until 1902, when the American league expanded into the East, taking over Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

TEN MEN WHO HAVE SERVED AS CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF THE ZENITH CITY ARE STILL LIVING

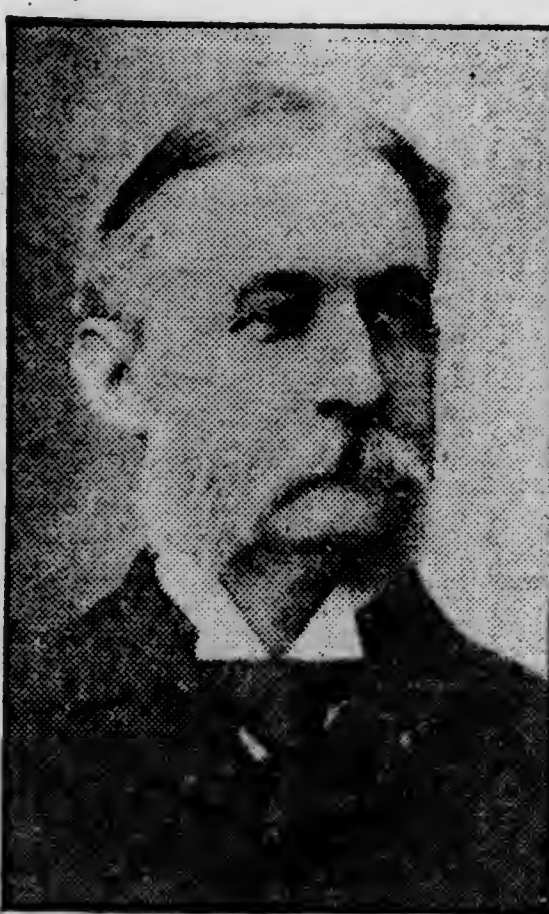

DULUTH'S LIVING MAYORS.

A. M. MILLER, 1877-78.

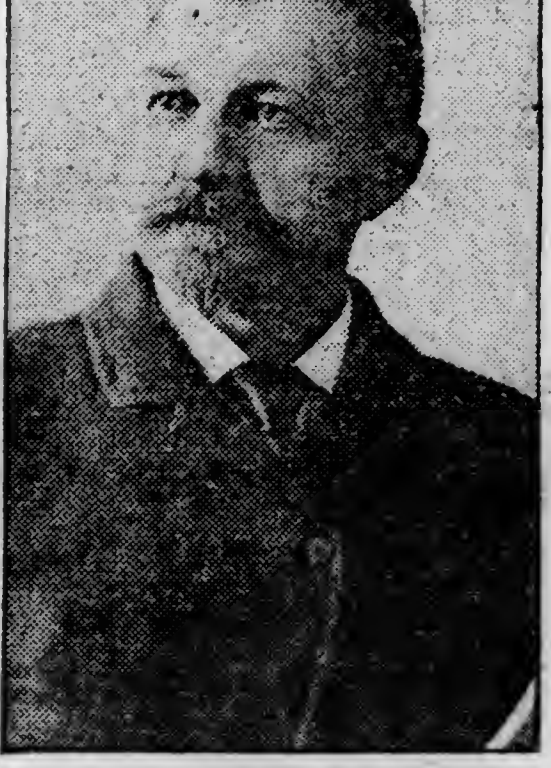

JUDGE J. D. ENSIGN, 1881.

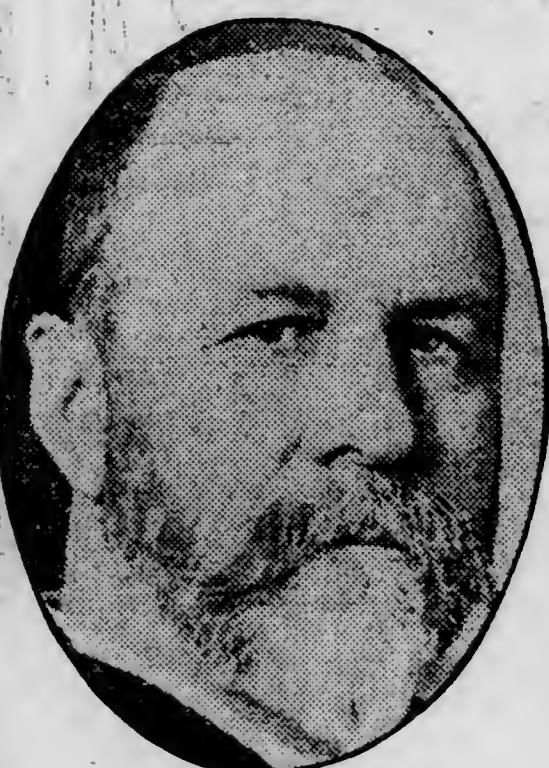

COL. C. H. GRAVES, 1883.

C. D'AUTREMONT, 1892-1894.

HENRY TRUELSEN, 1896-1900.

T. W. HUGO, 1900-04.

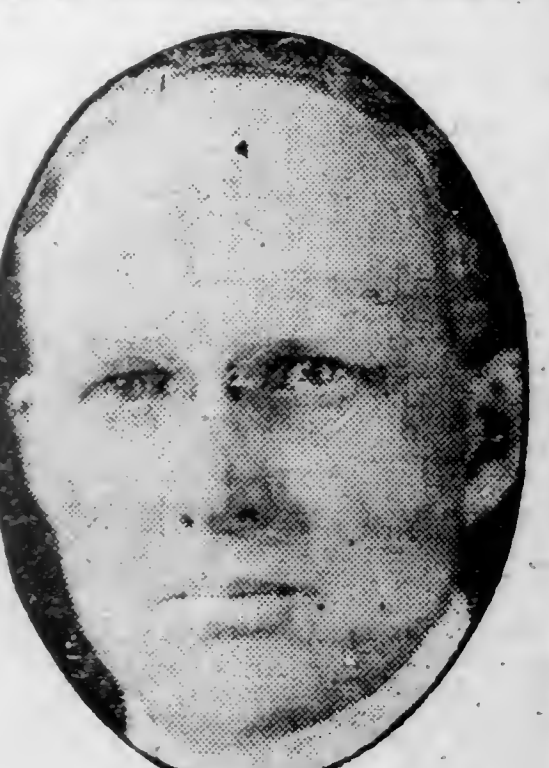

M. B. CULLUM, 1904-08; 1910-12.

R. D. HAVEN, 1908-09.

DR. J. A. MCCUEN, 1912-13.

W. I. PRINCE, 1913.

Ten of Duluth's mayors, who served as its executive heads from the time it became a village in 1870 until today, are still living.

The earliest of these is Andreas M. Miller, who served as mayor in 1877 and 1888, and who is now residing in New York.

The ten living mayors follow: A. M. Miller, 1877-88; Judge J. D. Ensign, 1881; Col. C. H. Graves, 1883; C.

d'autremont, 1892-94; Henry Truelsen, 1896-1900; T. W. Hugo, 1900-04; M. B. Cullum, 1904-08 and 1910-12; R. D. Haven, 1908-09; Dr. J. A. McCuen, 1912, and W. I. Prince, the present mayor, who took office in 1913.

Seven of the mayors still reside in Duluth, a majority of them taking a prominent part in the civic and business life of the city. The others are: Henry Truelsen, who is residing in North Dakota; R. D. Haven in New Mexico, and A. M. Miller in New York.

Joshua B. Culver, Democrat, father of Secretary Culver of the public works division, was the city's first mayor. Duluth was a village at that time and Mr. Culver took office in 1870, serving one year. He was again elected mayor in 1873, but died while in office, the unexpired term having been finished by Col. C. H. Graves, who served as mayor the previous year. In the early days there was only a one-year term, but this was extended to two years in 1890. M. B. Cullum served six years altogether, the longest period of any of the city executives.

Several years ago the city council appropriated about $600 to pay for portraits of the city's early mayors and these paintings now hang in the council chamber of the city, including J. B. Culver, Sidney Luce, Dr. V. Smith, Peter Dean, John Drew, J. D. Ensign, H. E. Moore, C. D'autremont, R. T. Lewis and J. B. Sutphin. M. J. Day and T. W. Hugo donated their pictures, the latter's having been completed but two weeks ago by painters in Washington. Subscriptions were started about six years ago for a painting of Henry Truelsen, but the picture, although completed, has never been hung in the city hall.

FOREWORD

By RT. REV. JAMES MCGOLRICK.

The Herald here publishes the list of honored men who filled the office of mayor of the city of Duluth.

The list is worth keeping, that the rising generation in the new order of things may know the names of those who, through good and evil report, ruled the City of Destiny, or the destinies of the city.

Many of these good men are happily still in the land of the living and as respected citizens take an active part in all that pertains to the good of the community.

It has been my good fortune to be acquainted with most of them and to bear testimony to the value of their friendship. From private citizenship they were raised to a pedestal of honor, and, of course, became a mark for the arrows of criticism, but of them we can say, with the poet; they were

"Friends to truth! of soul sincere,
In action faithful, and in honor clear;
Who broke no promise, served no private end."

The Incredible Itch

It is a curious fact that most people feel little or no discomfort when the doctor tactlessly tells them they have the red, old-fashioned itch. In fact there seems to be a conspiracy of silence upon the subject. The subject just because scabies (the itch) is caused by a parasite—the acarus scabiei, or itch mite, which is barely visible to the naked eye—the itch is considered unfit for discussion in polite society, although this same itch prevails with startling frequency among people who are fairly clean, intelligent and wealthy.

Contact spreads the disease—towels, borrowed clothing, gloves, upholstering, bed-clothing and the like. It may be acquired even by shaking hands with one who has it.

The female acarus or itch mite burrows along under the skin, laying eggs in the burrow. The eggs reach maturity in a few days and produce more itch mites. The burrowing is done mostly at night, soon after the patient retires—hence the marked itching felt at that time.

A fresh infection with itch is recognized by the burrows. These appear as little lines, perhaps 1-16 to 1/8-inch long, white, mostly about the wrists, but on any part of the body that may be affected.

Scabies is frequently not recognized by the physician who has not had large hospital experience. It often masquerades as "Cuban itch," "eczema," "uric acid eruptions"—and though such a thing could be—and "salt rheum." It will stay as long as it is not properly treated. But it is curable.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through this column; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnoses. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald. All questions will be answered, whether they come from people residing in Duluth or outside, provided they comply with the rules here stated. (Prepared by Adams Newspaper Service.)

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Examinations in Full Swing and Social and Athletic Activities Take Vacation—Strenuous Splurge Is Planned When Exams Are Over.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—This has been a dull week at the University of Minnesota. Examinations have been in full swing and nothing else has had a chance. Athletics has taken a vacation, as have also debating, social activities, school politics, campus gossip, fussing and all other forms of scholastic diversion. For once students have surely interfered with the students' pleasure most rudely. Plans, however, are on foot for a strenuous splurge as soon as the examinations are out of the way.

Closely following the Y. M. C. A. jubilee, the Pan-Hellenic society, the inter-society organization, is planning its annual dance which is one of the affairs of the school year. The fraternities are invited en masse and usually attend in like manner. The dance is held in the university auditorium.

The Garrick club is entirely ready for its visit to Duluth. The last rehearsal has been held, the numerous items of costumes have been assembled, paint and powder, and pencils have been put in order and carefully packed. In fact, nothing remains but to board the train on Monday evening. Some of the players have been in Duluth for several days enjoying the opportunity to curl and skate. Some of the ladies in the club are especially enthusiastic curlers. A meeting of the Duluth club was planned to endorse the trip but the failure of the rally to appear made it impossible to notify the Duluth club of the where and the when of the assembly, so nothing but informal support could be given. This, however, is not withheld and all those who are able to return home during the four or five days' vacation between semesters are planning to attend the production.

The Vanity Fair contest conducted by the 1917 Gopher has had an unusual number of entries. Nominations were closed on Monday and at that time over twenty names were in as candidates for the coveted position of campus queen for the co-ed receiving the largest number of votes is so declared and the eight leaders have the honor of appearing in the Vanity Fair section of the Gopher. Many of the upper class girls are much worried over the preponderance of freshmen in the list of nominees. Apparently the beginners have succeeded in winning the support of a large part of the stronger sex. If the sentiment runs as it has indicated it would there seem to be real danger that the first place will be captured by a lowly freshman.

MEN SPECIALISTS

Doctors of long experience have often been sorely disappointed in medicine. The more medical science advances, the more apparent becomes the folly of employing harsh and dangerous measures in attempting to cure the ailments of men. Drastic dosing and useless cutting have done irreparable injury in thousands of cases. The Natural Method does not disappoint. It is bound to do good, because only good can come from it. Let experienced specialists heal your troubles with this harmless method.

NATURAL TREATMENT.
To stimulate activity by the use of powerful tonics is an easy matter, and such results are merely temporary drug effects. We have in our service the most powerful X-Ray and high-frequency machines; with these we will build up your broken down system quicker than gallons of medicines and a surgeon's knife could do. Our treatment is local and constitutional, and corrects every abnormal condition of that vital center. Our cures are real cures and permanent.

Many years of successful practice in Men's Diseases justifies every claim we make. We promise our patients a successful treatment, and in cases where we cannot safely make this promise, we positively refuse to treat.

DEPENDABLE TREATMENT.
Our treatment is absolutely painless, and perfect results can be depended upon in every instance. We do no cutting, burning or dilating, like is usually done in piles and varicose veins.

VARICOSE VEINS.
Absolutely painless treatment that cures completely. Investigate our method. It is the only thoroughly scientific treatment for this disease being employed. Instead of cutting the worm-like masses, we dissolve them and remove the cause forever.

Hours: 9 to 6, Sundays 10 to 1. Write if you cannot call at once. Wednesday and Saturday open evenings until 8 o'clock.

Drama League Will Present Two Comedies Monday Evening

ROBERT S. WALKER
Who Will Have One of the Principal Parts in "The Lost Silk Hat."

"The Lost Silk Hat," by Lord Dunsany, a delicious whimsicality, and Cosmo-Gordon Lennox's sparkling dialogue "The Impertinence of the Creature," will be presented by the Drama League at its Little Theater Monday evening, Jan. 31, at 8:30 o'clock. The production of Lord Dunsany's little play affords members of the Drama League and their guests at the Little Theater their first opportunity to see one of the works of this young Englishman. He has to date written five plays, all in the one-act form, all of which have been produced and have proved successful in the theater. Although "The Lost Silk Hat" has been chosen as the first example here of his skillful manipulation of the one-act form, it is to be hoped that later the league will produce at least one of the other plays requiring more ambitious efforts, such as "The Glittering Gate" and "The God of the Mountain." The latter play has recently been produced by the Comedy club of New York, under the direction of Austin Strong, and proved to be one of their greatest successes.

Lord Dunsany, in spite of the success of his plays, is not by profession a playwright. He has spent his life in the army and is at present serving with his regiment in France. Yet he has found time, with a rare versatility, beside writing the plays, to produce fairy tales, stories, poems and scientific work.

The characters in the Dunsany plays seem highly fanciful, but the author has found time to produce a series of reasons of Lord Dunsany's appeal, that as Horkman says, "Behind all his exuberant imagination lies a solid basis of observation enabling him to endow the most impossible adventures with a homely and convincing air."

In "The Lost Silk Hat" the comedy of the situation lies in the contrast between the attitude which the Callers' passion for the conventions leads him to take and the varying attitudes of the League, the Clerk and the Post, who he successively calls on to aid him in his predicament.

"The Impertinence of the Creature" was first presented a few years ago by the Comedy club of New York, under the direction of Austin Strong, and proved to be one of their greatest successes.

Lord Dunsany, in spite of the success of his plays, is not by profession a playwright. He has spent his life in the army and is at present serving with his regiment in France. Bishop's Club Will Revive Custom of President's Evening

Reviving the custom of having president's evening, which was discontinued about six years ago, the Bishop's club will entertain at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in the Bishop's club room. A musical program, arranged by Miss Thelma Lynn, and a talk on "The Present State of the Church in the United States," by Dennis Donovan, will be followed by a reception to the president, Mrs. Fred Hoene, and the past presidents, when the officers of the Women's council as guests of honor, Mrs. Thomas F. Sheridan will preside at the tea table, will be assisted by Miss Louise Lyons, Miss Emily Mackay and Miss Mae Geary. In the evening the club will be held by the presidents who are in the city. Those who have held the office are Mrs. J. F. Killion, Mrs. L. K. Daugherty, Mrs. H. S. Ely, Mrs. D. McDonald, Mrs. M. H. Kelley, Mrs. A. V. Kelley and Miss Jean Polier.

The following program will be given: Bible reading—Acts of the Apostles, chapter 12. Dennis Donovan, "The Present State of the Church in the United States," by Dennis Donovan.

CLUBS AND MUSICAL SUFFRAGE WILL HOLD SPOTLIGHT IN DULUTH DURING NEXT TWO WEEKS

State Organizer Will Be Here—Two Famous Musicians Coming—Drama League Offerings—Y. W. C. A. Golden Jubilee.

NEXT week the Duluth suffragists would be too busy to go to the polls if the men urged them to go and even sent limousines for them, because the state organizer, Mrs. Maria McMahon, will come Monday for a two weeks' stay. Arrangements have been made for many meetings, a luncheon and a banquet during her first week here, and there is no telling how many meetings will be held the second week, but plans for these are still indefinite.

Although Mrs. McMahon insists upon woman's right to vote she is willing to share the honors of the week with two men, John McCormack and Percy Grainger. In a conversation that had turned from music to suffrage he said, "They'll get it—they got me."

The Drama League will give as its January production two comedies at the Little Theater Monday night and the Garrick club of the University of Minnesota will give "Lady Frederick" the following night.

The month's golden jubilee of the Y. W. C. A. will begin Tuesday night with an exhibit at the building. The membership banquet will be held Friday night at the Masonic temple and meetings, teas and programs will be held throughout February.

Southern California Women Are Proving That Sex Is No Barrier to the Rendering of Public Service of the Highest Order

ORFA JEAN SHONTZ, Referee of the Juvenile Court of Los Angeles, With the Duties of a Superior Judge.

(By Morris M. Rathbun.)
Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 29.—A woman the mental equal of man? Is she as competent to administer human affairs? Will granting her the franchise prove her of man's stature as an administrator, or demonstrate that she can not make good on the claims advanced for universal suffrage?

The women of Southern California are not waiting for theoretical answers to these trite, much mooted questions. They are entering the lists where once trod only the feet of men. They have widened their "sphere" until Los Angeles county now claims the distinction of having three public offices filled by women which formerly were always filled by men, and are today filled by men everywhere else in the country.

A member of a City Council.
The country woke up with a start when Mrs. Estelle Lawton Lindsey was elected a member of the city council of Los Angeles. It was not a surprise in the city, as Mrs. Lindsey was well known in club circles and in newspaperdom. Through her activity for certain reform measures strongly advocated by civic organizations and women's clubs, when she was acting mayor of the city for one day and told what she would do if she actually held the office, the interview was commented on the country over. She was the first woman ever elected to the council in a city of the first class.

Another surprise was registered when Miss Orfa Jean Shontz was appointed referee of the juvenile court, in his office.
This last innovation caused a gasp of astonishment in legal circles. The idea of a young woman for public prosecutor staggered the conservatives. "Who is Miss Shontz?" was asked. And the answer showed that there was no particular reason why she should not be appointed to the important place allotted her, and several very good reasons why she should be.

Some Typical Women.
Typical women of Southern California include Mrs. Althea Gilbert, who is doing a splendid job of the work of helping the daughter of some other woman.
While these three women have the distinction of holding offices never before held by women in this country, they are far from being alone in the prominent parts in the important affairs looking toward the betterment of social conditions. Southern California women are serving the state in many and varied capacities. Some of the appearances of these women in public life were innovations, notably when Mrs. Florence Collins Porter was sent as a delegate to one of the last presidential conventions.

Some movement is thought for the other fellow.
He told of being in North Yakima, Wash., when the saloons went out of business at midnight of Dec. 31 and said the saloon owners and the tenants seemed glad. He attributed the fact that prohibition votes carried the state to the instruction in temperance that the W. C. T. U. introduced many years ago into schools and Sunday schools all over the United States, pointing out that the men who cast votes for prohibition were among those to whom instructions were given in their school years.

Monthly Organ Recital at Trinity Cathedral
The monthly organ recital of Trinity cathedral, which Miss Leona Greiser has arranged for 8:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, will be a review of the ecclesiastical season since the last recital, Christmas and Epiphany. Rev. Thomas W. MacLean, the canon, will speak on "The World's Symphony." The program will be:
Hymn of the Gullmunt Invocation in B flat major—Gullmunt Melody—Dennis Donovan.
Tenor solo—"Nox" (a) "Intro" Alexander MacFayden (b) "My Jaqueminot" Herby (c) "Ishtar" Charles Gilbert Spores

DRAMA VAUDEVILLE MOTION PICTURES

COMMENT ON PLAYS AND PLAYERS WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS PROMISE

REVIVAL OF "ROBIN HOOD"

Famous Old Opera Will Be Heard at Lyceum Next Saturday.

"Robin Hood" has been given a worthy setting, and the production is said to be an artistic as well as an elaborate one. The market place of old Nottingham and the green shades of Sherwood forest have been reproduced with fidelity and an attempt has been made to preserve the atmosphere of old England in the days when Richard I was king. The costumes have been designed with care and are of the period. To properly cast "Robin Hood," Reginald de Koven drew on the resources of the grand opera houses of this country and Europe. Ivy Scott, a famous prima donna, with a rare lyric voice, was secured from the Metropolitan Opera, New York.

In the cast are Ralph Brainerd, James Stevens, Phil Branson, Cora Tracy, William Schuster, Tillie Salinger, Herbert Waterous, Carolyn Andrews, Sol Solomon and a superb chorus.

VARIED SHOW AT NEW GRAND

Five Spanish Singers Head Bill for Next Week.

With the shows of tonight and tomorrow the present bill at the New Grand will come to a close, and a new show will take possession of the boards Monday afternoon. The show now playing has proved one of the most satisfactory of the season.

The Bowman Brothers as singers, humorists, comedians, and all-around comedians, are hard to beat on the popular circuit.

The Bowman Brothers, who share headline honors with the Bowmans, are

ONLY STAR FILMS FOR ZELDA THEATER

W. M. Abrahamson Closes Contract for Metro and V-L-S-E Pictures.

W. M. Abrahamson, owner of the Zelda theater, has just returned from the East, where he closed one of the largest moving picture contracts ever made for Duluth.

Mr. Abrahamson secured the right to show at the Zelda theater exclusively the Metro feature pictures and the Big Four-V-L-S-E plays, which are considered to be among the best of the motion picture world.

The contract is said to involve about $30,000 and it is understood according to this contract, that only feature plays written by some well-known author and enacted by a strong cast, some star of the stage or screen in the role will be produced. This means that the Zelda will show only the best feature plays.

Plays like "The Turnout" by Booth Tarkington; "My Lady's Slipper," "The Island of Surprise," by Cyrus Townsend Brudenell, who wrote the "Island of Regeneration," and "The Rose of the Alps," by Harry Hoyt, can be compared favorably with any other features now being produced.

Mr. Abrahamson has decided that, regardless of the expense in securing these features, there will be no increase in the admission price, the usual Zelda theater price prevailing.

FAITH IN GOOD FILMS.

Rex Management Brings Many Famous Stars to Duluth.

With each change of program at the Rex theater Mr. Furness is congratulated on his faith in the good taste of Duluth folks for the best in the photograph world and his confidence in building for and securing the exclusive right to Triangle plays.

Triangle has worked out some important innovations in the motion picture field; one in particular has been greatly to the upbuilding, is the ruling that no matter how important the star in a production, it is the thing, and the star must be subordinate. Many companies pay fabulous prices to big stage stars, then draw light the purse strings and forget to surround them with either fitting settings or a logical story.

"The Missing Link" at the Rex tomorrow carries out every principle of improvement promised by the Fine Arts studios and is a clever story told in a logical way by a cast which enters into the spirit of the author and director. Robert Harron, Norma Talmadge, Thomas Jefferson, the son of a famous father, and other popular players, compose the cast of "The Missing Link."

Clifford Bruce, who takes the role of Nolan, the newspaper publisher, in "The Fourth Estate," playing at the Lyric Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, has one of the most strenuous parts imaginable. During the five reels he has no less than six fights. There was one fight, however, that came so suddenly that no one was expecting it. During the progress of the play, Bruce, penniless, is supposed to leave Chicago on a freight train.

To get the real atmosphere, the principals concerned went to one of the big railroad yards in Chicago. Authority had been secured from the railroad officials to take the scene on one of the cars in the yard but, through an oversight, the yard men had not been told. When Bruce lightly hopped into the freight car on one side, the yard men-poked his head into the doorway on the opposite side. Believing that Bruce was a thief, he asked no questions but grappled with him. Locked in each other's hold, both men went to the floor. It took considerable explaining to set matters right. To add to the comedy a real hobo was sound asleep under a pile of straw in the car and in the melee his face was stepped on but he never whimpered and the last of him he was burning the air up looking for a place of safety.

There are people who will assure you—as they have assured me—that motion picture directors everywhere are getting a good part of their time and energy into the making of a picture. This is altogether ridiculous. True, there is and always will be room at the top for real ability coupled with ambition and a willingness to work and learn, but never for a minute, you girl who would succeed, figure on finding a place in pictures through the supposition that a dearth of talent in the profession will allow you to "squeeze" in. At the studio where I work there are two big drawers filled with applications on file, and a great many of the girls whose names are listed there will never "squeeze" in.

"A Mother's Confession" is the title of the feature film in the "Forbidden Fruit" series that will be shown at the Sunbeam theater tomorrow.

In this thrilling photoplay, Henry Patterson marries a wealthy woman so that he may care for his first wife and child, whom he loves. Many serious complications set in and many torments are concealed within the circle of a wedding ring.

For Friday and Saturday there will be an unusual feature entitled "John Redmond, the Evangelist," which is a story within a story, in which John Redmond, as a minister, tells of his reform while in prison. Real life is shown in every reel of this excellent photoplay.

It is well that the "screen-struck girl" realize that there is a frightful amount of misconception concerning motion picture acting, and that it is trying hard to pass muster as real information. It may be bad for the asking—yes, too often without the asking.

will be a third film attraction for Sunday.

"Voices From the Past" an all-star feature film by the Lubin company, with Joseph W. Smiley and Lily Lealio in the leading roles, will be one of the best attractions for Monday and Tuesday. A strong plot carefully worked out holds the interest of the audience and the life story of the little ward of the wealthy bachelor proves an engaging one. Just how the past plays a prominent part in the history of this girl is cleverly revealed. Harry Moray is featured in a thrilling photoplay called "On the Turn of a Card."

"Ansel Lee," a Vitaphone, with Naomi Childers and Donald Hall, is a fascinating story of Roman love and its tragedies. "The Failure" is a photoplay produced by the "Wizards" of the screen, D. W. Griffith, and Edwin August and Donald Crisp are starred. Both these pictures come Wednesday and Thursday.

For Friday and Saturday there will be an unusual feature entitled "John Redmond, the Evangelist," which is a story within a story, in which John Redmond, as a minister, tells of his reform while in prison. Real life is shown in every reel of this excellent photoplay.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

A little review of theatrical doings in London during the trying times of the war brings out the fact that the situation over there is not so desperate as some would have us believe at first. At the present time there are about thirty theaters being operated in London. Six of them it is said, showed really substantial profits, and the remainder were not such heavy losers as was claimed earlier in the season. The number of new plays produced last year was twenty less than in the preceding season, but the revivals were as numerous as ever.

Musical plays, excepting the great number of "revues," were not up to the usual figure. Of the new productions the longest run registered was 284 performances of "Quinneys" at the Haymarket theater. "Betty" aggregated 284 performances at Daly's, while the "Gaiety" housed "Tonight's the Night" for 217 overtures.

Of the year's new plays thirteen were American plays. Among them were "Excuse Me," "Seven Days," "The Argyle Case," "The Trial," "Kicks In," "Romance," "Stop Thief," and "The Only Girl."

Two plays, still running, produced in the autumn of 1914, have to their credit over 500 performances. These are "My Heart" and "The Man Who Stayed at Home."

WHY THIS PARCEL POST DEPARTMENT PAYS THE ADVERTISER

Because it reaches the kind of people the merchant wants to sell. Because it appeals to its readers in a way that will support his advertising. Because a maximum proportion of its circulation is among people who buy. Because its advertising value is so recognized that the fact that an article is advertised in its columns influences their orders on that article.

MR. MERCHANT, haven't you something to sell to the thousands of readers who look to this department for buying suggestions? CALL OR WRITE THE PARCEL POST DEPARTMENT, DULUTH HERALD, FOR DETAIL INFORMATION.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Iron Mountain.—John Lettice who has been paroled from the branch state prison at Marquette by Gov. Fecris was a resident of Felch township. In the Dickinson county circuit court at the January term, 1907, Lettice was convicted of second degree murder. Judge J. W. H. Smith, chief justice of the Michigan supreme court, was criminal judge, and the late August C. Smith, now chief state attorney, Lettice was sentenced to serve a term of thirty years at hard labor.

Bay Mills.—H. H. Lichtwardt, of Detroit of the state bar, is a committee who will have charge of arrangements for the Bay Mills convention which will begin at Marquette next Monday and will be held in Marquette next Tuesday.

Negaunee—Arthur Rostem, a dairyman, was heavily fined by Judge T. A. Threlkeld on charge of prohibiting Dr. Buck of Marquette and City Health Officer C. J. Larson from testing his cattle. A number of other cases such as this are in sight by the health officer and will be prosecuted.

Calumet—A proposal will be made at the regular meeting of the Iron Range council next Tuesday evening that the entire project of installing a decorative lighting system in the village be submitted to the voters at the annual spring election.

Handker, twenty pastors represented the conference. Fifty evangelists participated. The Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod is sponsoring the conference for a three-day conference, beginning on Sunday.

To maintain the congregation of the Presbyterian church voted to excommunicate the pastor who had violated the pupil during the holiday vacation and created a very interesting situation. Mr. O'Connell, who is a theological school in Chicago and who will receive his degree in November, will receive his degree in November.

Calumet-Thomas Dennis, a hardware company, sustained a fractured leg Thursday morning.

The escape at the Tamarrack Co-operative store when a heavy snowfall of structure was involved.

At a death.—Mrs. Hannah Boomgard, den, 81 years old, mother of the Rev. C. D. Boomgard, and one of the survivors of the attack on the city, died following an attack of grip.

MARKET HAS SHARP BREAK

Wheat Slumps on Heavy Re-Selling By Exporters at the Seaboard.

Flaxseed Declines on Selling Pressure; Crushers Again Buy on Breaks.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 29.—Wheat prices slumped sharply in today's market as a result of weakness at Winnipeg and reported reselling by exporters there and at the seaboard. Advices were to the effect that foreign buyers were showing a disposition to lighten their holdings in expectation of cheaper Argentine freight rates and a heavier movement developing from that country. Liverpool was lower in both spot wheat and grain on passage, so that the market in this side were practically bare of export orders. Sharp selling was reported at all points. At Duluth, 57 cars were received, at Minneapolis 198, and at Winnipeg 137. The market was closed at $1.25 1/2 off at $1.25 1/2 and closed at $1.25 1/2. A break of 3c was registered in Liverpool at one stage. Crushers held off on the market, but failed to hold off during the late trading. May flour opened unchanged at $2.38, and closed 1/2c off at $2.35 1/2. At Duluth, 14 cars were received, at $1.45, and London unchanged at $2.50 1/2. Oats closed 1/2c off at 45c for on the track; rice, unchanged at 58c, and barley unchanged at 67c to 70c. At St. Louis, May wheat closed at $1.25 1/2, and July at $1.25 1/2. At Kansas City, May wheat closed at $1.25 1/2, and July at $1.25 1/2. Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.25, and calls at $1.24.

CHICAGO MARKET.
Predictions of Increased Foreign Shipments Break Wheat Prices.
Chicago, Jan. 29.—Predictions of larger Australian and Argentine shipments to Europe had a bearish influence today on the wheat market here. In this connection the fact that Winnipeg showed a big decline was regarded as of considerable significance. Increased stocks at Duluth, City and the apparent absence of export demand counted also against the market. Opening 1/2c to 3/4c down, with May at $1.25 1/2 and July at $1.25 1/2. The market rallied a little, but subsequently sank lower than before. The close was heavy, 1 1/2c to 1 3/4c net lower with May at $1.25 1/2 and July at $1.25 1/2. Corn was active at the highest figures on this season's crop. Cutting down of estimates as to the size of the Argentine exportable surplus gave the market strength, so, too, did the unsettled weather threatening to reduce arrivals here and to spoil further the quality of the supply. Opening prices, which were unchanged to 1/4c up, were followed by a decided general advance. Declines in wheat were responsible for a late reaction in corn. The close weakened the oats market. The strength of corn, however, brought about a rally. Absence of selling pressure allowed provisions to harden in price. The best gains were in pork.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.
Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 29.—Wheat, lower; receipts, 198 cars, compared with 241 cars a year ago. May, $1.33 1/2; closed, $1.33 1/2. July, $1.31 1/2; closed, $1.31 1/2. Oats, $1.30 1/2; closed, $1.30 1/2. Corn, $1.32 1/2; closed, $1.32 1/2. Flour unchanged; shipments, 73,159 barrels. Rye, 70¢ to 75¢. Rye, $1.00 to $1.01; bran, $1.75 to $2.02.

CARNEGIE LEAD AND ZINC is attracting attention on account of rich shipments lately made from the mine.
This mine is developing into a very rich property and no one who knows the property questions the great future. The small number of shares in this company makes it very interesting for those who own a reasonable block of stock. This property is so big and rich in minerals that it would probably take a dozen Butte-Alex Scotts and several Butte-Balaklavsas and some more ordinary mines to compare with this great Carnegie property. It is awfully big and has one of the most wonderful vein systems that I have ever seen. The last batch of cars shipped will bring back almost $22,000 in cash.
Shares are trading at $4.50. Now is the time to get all you can consistently pay for.

MARSH MINING
An elegant mine and a rich shipper; shares about 39c. It's safe and sure.

DECLINES IN STOCKS
Leading Shares Record Lowest Quotations of the Week.
Small Dealings Almost Entirely Restricted to Professional Traders.
New York, Jan. 29.—Professional traders, to whom today's small dealings were almost entirely restricted, again manifested their bearishness by more or less successful attempts to depress prices. Leading shares, including United States Steel, the principal railroads and some metals recorded lowest quotations of the week, some falling to minimums of the month. War issues, like Studebaker, New York Central, and others, which had been high priced specialties, yielded 3 to almost 5 points, and Bethlehem Steel fell 14 to 48. New Haven and Canadian Pacific were heaviest of the railroads, with moderate offerings of Union Pacific and Erie at concessions. Variable rallies were followed by fresh selling later, and closing was weak. Bonds were steady.

CHICAGO LIVERSTOCK.
Chicago, Jan. 29.—Pork prices featured the hog market today as a result of arrivals here and at other leading points not being plentiful. Cattle were offered and they proved to be of an unattractive sort. Buyers are reluctant to infer from the sheep and lamb market. Receipts, 17,000; firm; unchanged to a shade above yesterday's average; bulk, $7.70 to $7.95; light, $7.30 to $7.50. Hogs, 10,000; firm; unchanged to a shade above yesterday's average; bulk, $7.70 to $7.95; light, $7.30 to $7.50. Sheep, 1,000; firm; unchanged to a shade above yesterday's average; bulk, $7.70 to $7.95; light, $7.30 to $7.50.

SELECT THREE AMENDMENTS

Special Committee Plans Substantial Changes in City Charter.

Two Election Systems Are Presented to Charter Commission.

Three amendments to Duluth's charter were last evening selected by the special committee of the charter commission at a meeting held in the offices of T. T. Hudson, chairman of the commission.

These include a non-partisan voting system, with a registration, day, combined registration and primary and regular election day, to take the place of the preferential ballot system declared illegal by the state supreme court early last summer; an increase of the non-advised purchase limit from $100 to $500; and a change in the method of paying extended assessments on improvements from three to five installments and reducing the rate of interest from 7 to 6 per cent.

Up to Charter Commission.
The three amendments selected by the special committee will be submitted to the charter commission at an early date. Chairman Hudson announced this morning, and it is expected, will be presented to the city council with a request that a special election be called for a public vote on the measures. No action was taken by the committee on the proposed amendments establishing the old city board, changing the membership of the board of tax review, to include the mayor, city assessor and finance commissioner in place of the former two and the city clerk, and the enlarging of the powers of the appeals in condemnation proceedings to 25% benefits as well as damages.

The amendments creating the non-partisan voting system contains two plans, one of which will be selected by the general charter body. Both provide for a plan similar to the state non-partisan plan, in that candidates for each office shall appear on the ballot of the regular election and that those candidates shall be chosen at a primary to be held three weeks before the general election. They differ in that one provides for first and second choice votes at the primary to determine which nominee shall appear on the general election ballot, while the other is a regular ballot with the two highest candidates on the total vote cast being selected for the regular election.

Election System.
The voting amendment provides for the first regular election the first Tuesday in April, 1917, with a registration day on the second Tuesday in March preceding and a combined

WEST END

WILL GIVE FAREWELL SERMON SUNDAY

Rev. F. O. Hanson Will Leave Trinity English Lutheran Church.

Rev. F. O. Hanson, pastor of Trinity English Lutheran church, Twenty-seventh avenue west and Third street, will preach his farewell sermon to the members of the local congregation tomorrow morning. Mr. Hanson and his family will leave on an afternoon train for Des Moines, Iowa, where the pastor will assume charge of the Des Moines English Lutheran church and will also become superintendent of the Augustana Lutheran hospital.

Mr. Hanson organized the local church three years ago and since then has had direct charge. Until the first of the new year he also held the position of field secretary for the English work of the Augustana synod of Lutheran churches of America. This position he also resigned when given the appointment to the Des Moines institutions.

Rev. P. N. Sjogren of Rock Island, Ill., the present field secretary for Augustana English Lutheran churches, will arrive tomorrow to assume charge of the work. Mr. Sjogren will remain in Duluth until such time as a pastor for the church has been obtained. The congregation is still waiting for a reply to a call extended a month ago to Rev. Julius Lincoln of Jamestown, N. Y.

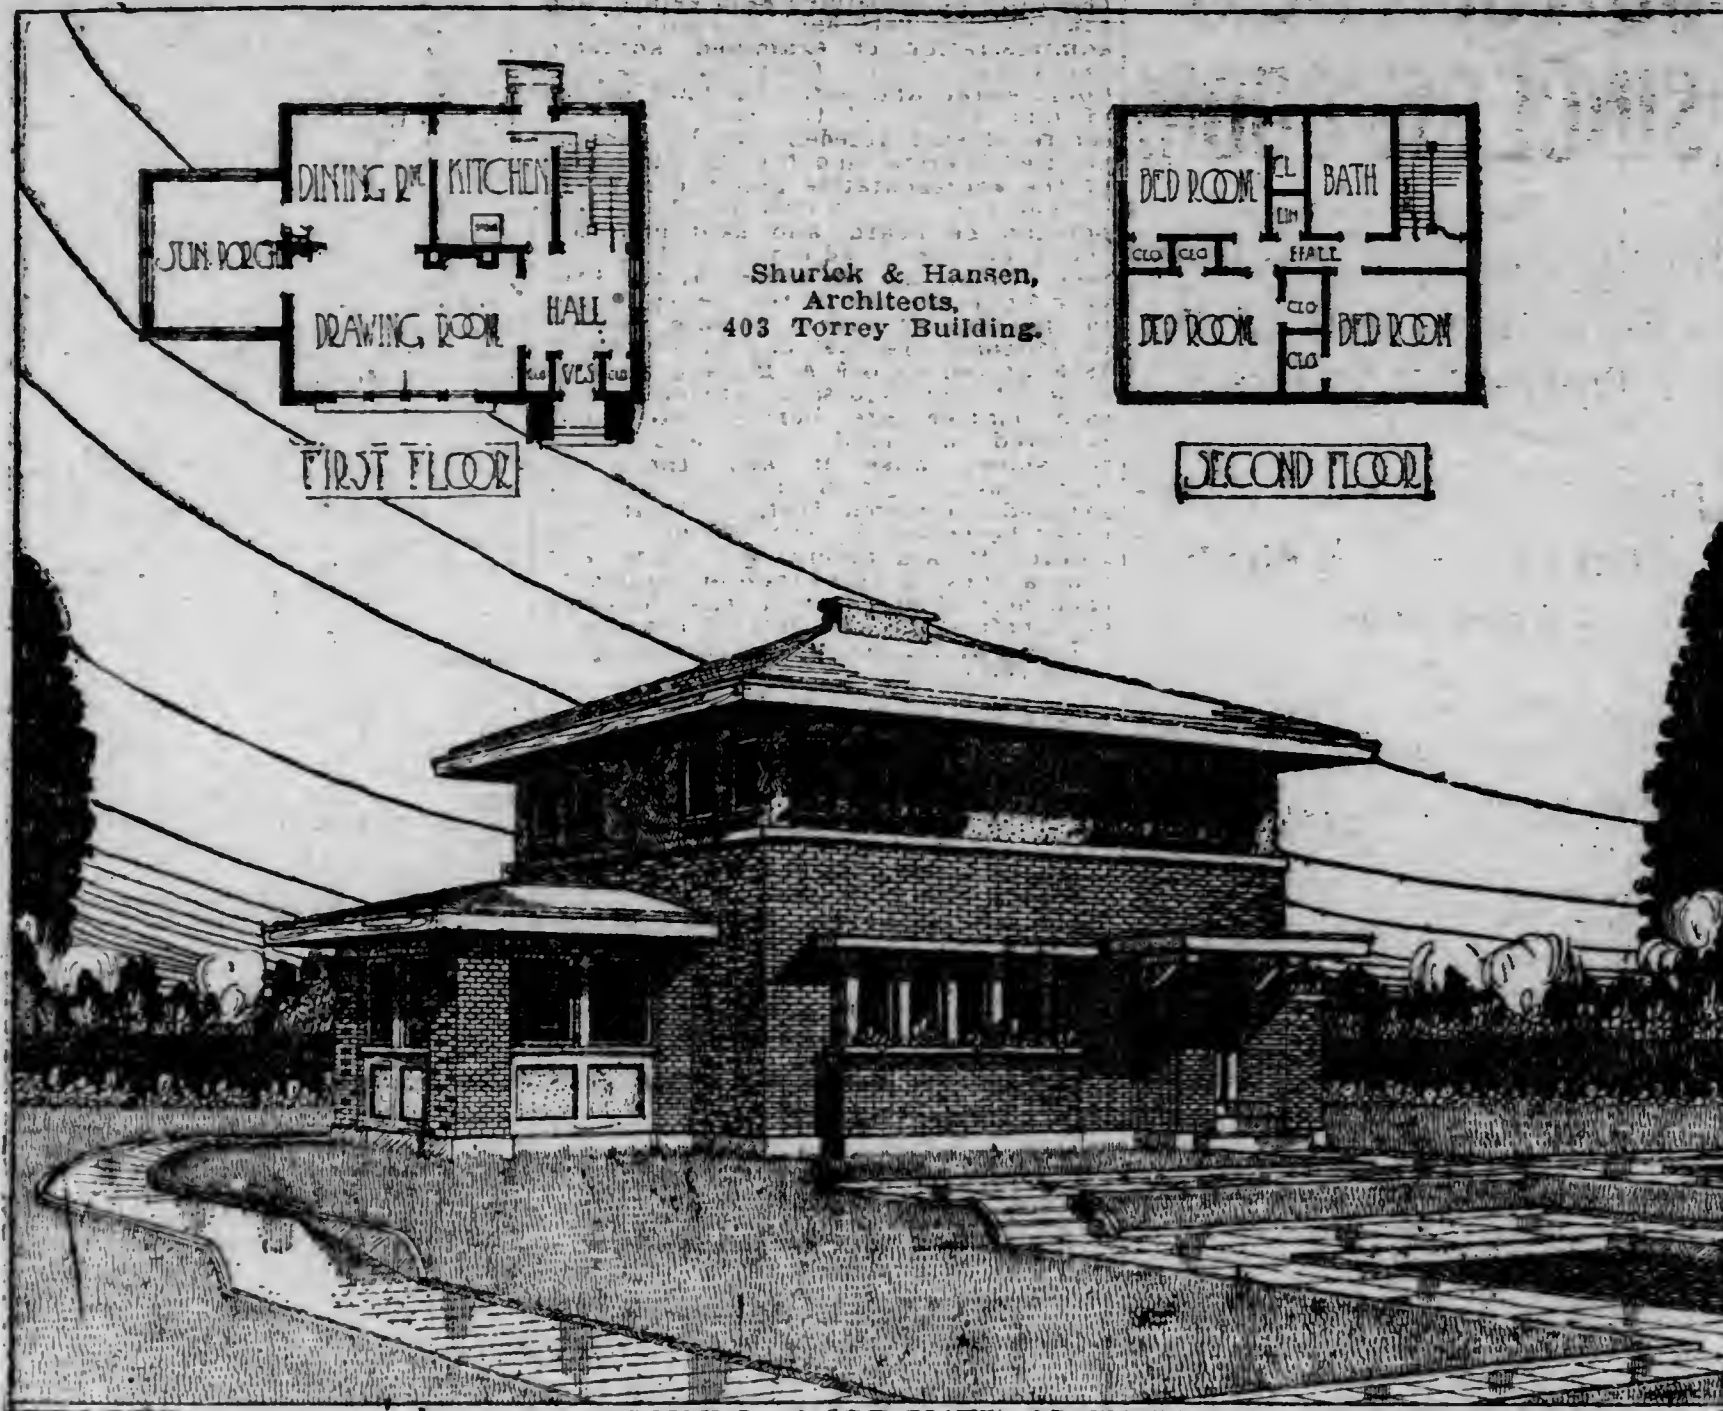

CHOIR WILL ENTERTAIN.

Concert Will Be Given at Grace M. E. Church Tuesday Night.

The choir of the Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, will entertain at a concert to be given in the church on Tuesday evening. The choir will be assisted by Prof. A. F. Lundholm, organist; Mrs. Milton Fisher, reader; Arthur Pearson, soloist; and Miss Adia Utley, reader.

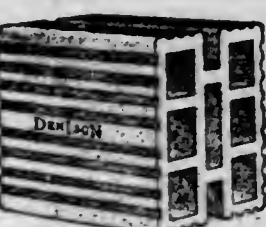

The members of the choir have been holding rehearsals during the past month in preparation for the concert. The program has been arranged under the direction of Mrs. E. Emmett Peters and Mrs. David Adams. The members of the choir are: Mrs. Edna Kelley, Mrs. J. W. Allen, Miss Dorothy Beatty, Mrs. J. E. Porter, Mrs. David Adams, Mrs. T. S. Fowler, Miss Hazel Molt,

AMERICAN TYPE

The design shown above is of the American type in brick and stucco. This building appeals to almost everyone because it is not only practical in the interior but attractive on the exterior. The interior arrangement provides for a large living room, dining room, kitchen, hall and sun parlor. The sun parlor opens from both the living room and the dining room, a very convenient feature. The second floor has three bedrooms and bath. The building could be erected for about $4,500 in Duluth, including plumbing and heating.

DULUTH NEGRO GIVEN MEDAL FOR SERVICE IN CUBAN CAMPAIGN

LIEUT. THADDEUS W. STEPP.

FOREIGN SERVICE MEDAL.

Thaddeus W. Stepp, janitor and door man at the Lyceum theater building, is the only negro in Duluth and one of few men in the country who have been honored by being presented with a handsome army of occupation service medal by the United States war department. The medal is in recognition of meritorious service performed in Cuba while serving during the reconstruction period following the war with Spain. Mr. Stepp received the badge yesterday.

Mr. Stepp offered his services at the first call for volunteers issued by President William McKinley. In the spring of 1898, he assisted in recruiting members of his race in the Eighth Illinois volunteer infantry, the only regiment of the country that was entirely made up of negro men and officers. He received a commission as second lieutenant from Governor John Tanner and held that position during the war.

Since 1902, Jan. 29 has been observed throughout the United States as McKinley day. That day was the first birthday anniversary of the martyred president after his death on Sept. 14, 1901, and today is the seventy-third anniversary of his birth.

The Ohio society of New York has done a great deal to establish the custom of wearing a white carnation on McKinley day, and this has come to be observed generally. A white carnation was President McKinley's favorite flower.

Commemorative services will be held in various parts of the United States, and particularly in Canton, Ohio, the old McKinley home. The New York commemoration will be under the leadership of men prominent during the McKinley-Hanna regime. George E.

FORT WILLIAM HIT.

Heaviest Snowfall in Years Retards All Traffic.

Fort William, Ont., Jan. 29.—Train service in this vicinity was demoralized, street traffic here, virtually brought to a standstill and telegraph and telephone service greatly interfered with by the snow storm of Thursday night and early yesterday.

More than three feet of snow fell here since Christmas, the streets of the city resemble canyons because of the great heaps on either side, and in the outskirts yesterday people dug tunnels through which to leave their homes, some about some cottages having drifted to the edges. The city is now bound to use than at any previous time in seventeen years.

Canadian Pacific train No. 2 from Winnipeg to Toronto arrived here yesterday twelve hours late. Five engines were used to haul here. Engineer Lindsay fell from his cab when the engine struck a drift and was almost smothered in the snow before a rope was lowered to him.

CANTON WILL INSTALL.

Gen. Hohenstein Will Conduct Ceremony for Odd Fellows.

Canton Star No. 14 of the Odd Fellows will install its officers for this year tonight in the lodge hall, Axa, 221 West Superior street at 8 o'clock. The canton is the military branch of the organization, and 150 members of the lodge are expected. The exercises will be public, and a large number of visitors from the surrounding lodges are expected. Gen. August Hohenstein from St. Paul and his officers will arrive this afternoon for the purpose of conducting the ceremony.

The following officers will be installed: Captain, James A. MacGillivray; lieutenant, A. Berstrom; ensign, John A. Braff; clerk, A. J. O'Donnell; accountant, J. Frank McDonald. The following program has also been arranged: Vocal solo, by Miss Esther Fletcher, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Olin; reading, by Miss Elizabeth Donovan; violin solo, by A. J. O'Donnell; vocal solo, by Mrs. O. H. Bossert; reading, by Miss Uida Utley.

LLOYD GEORGE SURE OF WINNING THE WAR

London, Jan. 29.—"I think that for us the war is only beginning," said David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, in an interview with the London correspondent of the Milan Scalo, "but I am absolutely confident of victory because, although we all have made mistakes in the past, England and her allies have taken more and more munitions than the enemy, and our superiority in men is unquestioned. Beside this Germany's financial position is growing worse daily."

SUFFICIENT MONEY RAISED FOR HATTERS

Danbury, Conn., Jan. 29.—National officers of the Hatters of North America estimated that the contributions appealed by the American Federation of Labor, and made for the relief of the defendants in the Danbury Hatters' case would be at least $350,000, and might reach $450,000. It was stated that funds to meet the $25,000 damages and costs awarded D. E. Loewe & Co. plaintiff in the case would be sufficient to protect the defendants from losing a dollar of their personal property, attached by Loewe & Co.

About $400,000 would be needed, it was stated, and this amount it seemed certain, had been given.

Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINS FOR LOCAL FIREMEN

The Y. M. C. A. gave a program of many interesting features at Firchall No. 4, Fourteenth avenue east and Second street for the firemen and their families. The "Y" furnished a musical program and Dr. R. C. Westenberg of Minneapolis gave an address illustrated with lantern slides. Luncheon was served. Old-fashioned games were played by the children and many of the grown-ups. No fire calls disturbed the pleasure of the firemen.

DISCUSSES SINGLE TAX.

John Z. White Addresses Brotherhood; Will Speak to League.

John Z. White of Chicago will give an address tonight on "The Single Tax" before the Single Tax league at Forsters' hall.

Mr. White was the principal speaker last night before the Lakeside Brotherhood club at the Lakeside Presbyterian church. About fifty members of the brotherhood were present. The organization adopted resolutions protesting against any attempt to repeal the Indian treaty of 1885 which stops the sale of liquor on certain Indian territory in Northern Minnesota. The resolutions will be sent to Congressman Miller at Washington, D. C.

The following officers will be installed: Captain, James A. MacGillivray; lieutenant, A. Berstrom; ensign, John A. Braff; clerk, A. J. O'Donnell; accountant, J. Frank McDonald.

The following program has also been arranged: Vocal solo, by Miss Esther Fletcher, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Olin; reading, by Miss Elizabeth Donovan; violin solo, by A. J. O'Donnell; vocal solo, by Mrs. O. H. Bossert; reading, by Miss Uida Utley.

RUSSIANS DEFEAT TURKS IN CAUCASUS; FRENCH FIGHT FOR LOST GROUND NEAR NEUVILLE

ERZERUM IS SAID TO BE SURROUNDED

Turk Authorities Leave City
Just in Time to Avoid Capture.

Germans Still Hold the Trenches Won By Them in West.

Two Attacks Near Hill No.
140 Repulsed By French.

Paris, Jan. 31.—News has been received in diplomatic circles at Athens, the Balkan agency's correspondent there telegraphs, that the Russians have inflicted a fresh defeat on the Turks in the Caucasus. The correspondent reiterates the report that the Russians have surrounded Erzerum. The Turkish authorities and the bank-ers with the bank funds, he says, left the city at the last moment, barely escaping capture by Cossacks. Russian artillery has begun to bombard the forts of the city.

The correspondent adds that the Turks are hastily fortifying the towns of Algiers and Sivas, capitals of the provinces of those names, situated respectively 215 and 425 miles east of Constantinople.

Attempt to Regain Lost Ground.—The French have been making repeated attacks to regain the ground recently lost by them near Neuville, army headquarters announced today, but all their attacks have been beaten off, the Germans still holding their newly won trenches.

Result in Failure.—The French forces last night delivered two attacks with hand grenades near Hill No. 140, both of which resulted in failure, according to the French official announcement given out this afternoon.

NAVAL ACTIVITIES ON NORWEGIAN COAST

Clash Between British and German Ships Possible at Any Time.

Christiania, Jan. 31, via London.—Extraordinary British and German naval activity has been in evidence along the Norwegian coast the last few days, according to the Stavanger correspondent of the Morgen Bladet, who adds that a clash is possible at any time.

A number of British warships and German submarines have been observed just outside territorial waters. A steamer arriving from England Saturday, continuing on its way, was stopped by a British cruiser, which fired a shot across her bow. The steamer was inspected and passed.

The Swedish steamer Edith, from Lubeck, which has arrived at Stavanger, saw a large number of British destroyers, but was not detained.

On Saturday another Swedish steamer was pursued by a German submarine close to the Loecker coast and saved herself by entering territorial waters. A large British cruiser and a big submarine were by her side.

Reports from various parts of the Loecker coast say that a number of cruisers and destroyers have been seen going southward very close to land.

BRANDEIS' NOMINATION GOES TO COMMITTEE

OUTRAGEOUS ACTS CHARGED TO ENFORCERS OF LIQUOR LAW

Illinois Representative Tells, Opened at Duluth, He Says, of Woman's Baggage and Contents Spread

From The Herald Washington Bureau.
Washington, Jan. 31.—Charges that officers of the Indian bureau performed outrageous acts in the administration of the Indian liquor law in Minnesota were made by Representative Chipperfield of Illinois in the debate on the Indian bill in the house today. Mr. Chipperfield declared that one of these officials, W. W. Thomason, had opened the baggage of a friend of his daughter, while she was at the railroad station in Duluth and spread her most intimate and personal belongings.

"When I protested against the outrageous conduct," he said, "I was told by the Indian bureau that the deputies

TWO KILLED AT BUFFALO

Two Others Seriously Hurt in Murderous Attack on Auto Party.

Widow of Conrad Teiper and Son Frederick Lose Lives.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Two persons were murdered, another probably fatally injured, and a fourth severely beaten up in an automobile holdup on the Orchard Park road near this city early today. Several hours elapsed before the city and county authorities were informed of the crime and the assailants made good their escape.

The victims, prominent Buffalo residents and members of the same family were:

MRS. AGNES M. TEIPER, aged 67, shot in head and instantly killed.
FREDERICK C. TEIPER, son, was beaten to death with blunt instrument. Grace C. Teiper, daughter, skull fractured, will die.
Edward E. Teiper, son, beaten on head and left senseless on road.

The family was returning from Orchard Park and had just returned a short distance south of the Terminal railroad crossing. There the party was ambushed by the holdup men.

Teiper was killed by the first of four shots fired. The men then clubbed the others and after robbing them of money and jewelry, fled. A farmer living nearby heard the shots and the cries of the women and gave the alarm.

Mrs. Teiper was the widow of Conrad Teiper, who founded the Buffalo Structural Steel company.

charged with the enforcement of the anti-liquor law were doing this and would continue to do it regardless of the personal feelings of the travelers.

Somewhat the same procedure has been followed by the customs officers at Northern Minnesota. This matter is not political, as the same things were done while the Republicans were in power.

Mr. Chipperfield produced Thomason's card, which contained the following: "You can't always, perhaps not even often, tell by the looks of a well-said a sultan, what may be inside, and it's always interesting, at least, and sometimes exciting, to look in and find out."

Twenty-Four Killed in First Raid, None in the Second.

Paris, Jan. 31.—Several bombs were dropped by the Zeppelin which flew over the outskirts of Paris last night, but they produced no such deadly effect as on the occasion of the raid of Saturday night. The official press bureau gave out the following statement this morning:

"A German dirigible set out in the direction of Paris, where it arrived soon after 10 p. m. It was bombarded by our special batteries, and attacked by our aeroplanes. Before returning northward, it dropped a number of bombs which, according to the news received so far, did no damage."

Five French aeroplanes engaged the Zeppelin which on Saturday night dropped bombs on Paris, killing and wounding over two score of persons, according to an authoritative statement just issued. The first to attack the German raider was a machine piloted by a sergeant, who was occupied in patrolling the upper

ITALY TO CONTINUE ALBANIAN CAMPAIGN

Asks Great Britain and France to Help in the Contest.

Berlin, Jan. 31, wireless to Sayville.—Italy has decided to continue the campaign in Albania, according to Vienna advices given out today by the Overseas news agency, and is said to have landed an additional infantry division and several batteries of heavy artillery at Avlona.

"Italy will not give up Albania," the news agency says. "She considers an effective defense of the southern part of the country as a military and political necessity. Other reports state that Italy, lacking sufficient troops of her own has asked for help from England and France."

Washington, Jan. 31.—The whereabouts of the submarine K-5 remained unknown to navy officials here today. The officials were not alarmed by the absence of any report from the submarine. They believe she may have experienced trouble with her engines, but her battery power was sufficient to keep her under control in that case.

Failure to receive any report from the vessel, they said, might indicate that her wireless apparatus had become deranged. Lieut. R. C. Grady commands (Continued on page 10, second column.)

RECEIVES $30,000 AND MANY PRESENTS FROM THE SULTAN

DR. JAMES A. ISRAEL.
Berlin, via London, Jan. 31.—The Turkish sultan's aide-de-camp arrived in Berlin yesterday with the fee for Dr. Israel, the surgeon who recently operated on the sultan. The fee amounts approximately to $30,000. In accordance with the Turkish custom, the sultan, as well as numerous princes of the royal family, in addition to money, sent many presents to Dr. Israel and all the members of his family.

SUBMARINE IS STILL MISSING

No Word From U. S. Sub-mersible K-5 Lost Sunday Morning.

Officials Not Alarmed By Absence of Report From Boat.

Charleston, S. C., Jan. 31.—Naval vessels continued to search the Carolina coast early today for the United States submarine K-5, reported missing since 1 o'clock Sunday morning, but according to information here the efforts were futile. The submersible had not responded to wireless calls sent out from shore stations and naval vessels, and this led marine men to express fear that the boat had suffered at least an accident to her wireless apparatus.

A heavy fog hung over the coast between here and Cape Roman, forty miles north of here, where the K-5 was sighted, and this made more difficult the task of the searchers. No word had been received up to 9 a. m. today from submarine K-5 or from the vessels which are searching for her, according to navy yard officials.

Officials Not Alarmed.
Washington, Jan. 31.—The whereabouts of the submarine K-5 remained unknown to navy officials here today. The officials were not alarmed by the absence of any report from the submarine. They believe she may have experienced trouble with her engines, but her battery power was sufficient to keep her under control in that case.

Failure to receive any report from the vessel, they said, might indicate that her wireless apparatus had become deranged. Lieut. R. C. Grady commands (Continued on page 10, second column.)

Liverpool, Jan. 31.—The seven missing seamen from the American line steamship Philadelphia were landed today by a trawler at Milfordhaven, Wales, after the Philadelphia's collision Saturday with the British sailing ship Ben Lee off the coast of Wales.

The seamen put off in a lifeboat to rescue the Ben Lee's crew. They became lost in the darkness and were adrift all night, being finally picked up by a passing steamship.

Continued Rains.
Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 31.—Continued rain again today threatens four states of the Southwest with heavy damage and interrupted traffic. In Eastern Arkansas, Eastern Kansas, Western Missouri and Northeastern Oklahoma, rivers are approaching flood stage, while sleet and rain have seriously damaged telegraph and telephone lines. Threatening conditions have driven many families from their homes to higher ground and efforts are being made in many places to strengthen levees in order to avert flood damage if the rivers continue to rise.

FLANNERY NAMED TO SUCCEED EDGERTON

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—H. C. Flannery, Minneapolis, was today appointed assistant attorney general to succeed A. J. Edgerton. Mr. Flannery has been acting as a special assistant to the department.

There is still a vacancy on the staff caused by resignation of J. C. Nathan of Stillwater, which will not be filled until the return of Attorney General Smith from the South.

Paris and its people escaped harm in the second Zeppelin raid made on the city within two days. The official statement on the Sunday night attack declares that while the airship dropped a number of bombs, no damage has been reported. Casualties from Saturday's raid are officially given as 24 killed and 27 injured.

While isolated encounters and much artillery and mining activity is reported, comparative quiet seems to have settled down again upon the western fighting front, where the Germans recently reported notable successes.

PRESIDENT THROWS DOWN THE GAUNTLET TO OPPONENTS OF NATIONAL PREPAREDNESS PLAN

DULUTH OPENS ANOTHER BATTLE IN CAMPAIGN FOR JUSTICE IN RATES

Lake and Rail Rates Are Involved in New Case.

Is Regarded Fully as Important as Previous Ones.

Charges Discrimination in Rates From C. F. A.
Territory.

Duluth is today opening another battle for railroad rate emancipation. To date she has won every important rate case in which she has been the aggressor or intervenor; and the case which is being started today is regarded fully as important as any of those that have gone before.

The case begun today is that of the Commercial club of Duluth, Kelley-Haw-Thomson company and Marshall-Wells Hardware company against the Pennsylvania railroad and all other lines operating in C. F. A. territory, and the complaint and schedule covering twenty-nine printed pages, was forwarded today to Washington to be filed with the interstate commerce commission.

The case involves lake-and-rail rates, but affects the rail rates virtually alone, for in a recent decision the advance proposed by the lake-and-rail lines was refused by the commission, Duluth thereby scoring another victory.

In brief the complaint now to be filed is to the effect that discrimination is shown against Duluth in the making of rates from points in Central Freight association territory via lake and rail higher than rail-lake-and-rail rates to the Twin Cities, and higher than the rail rates to Duluth, so far as the tariffs in C. F. A. territory is concerned. The contention of the Duluth traffic commission is that this is unjust, unreasonable and discriminatory and that the roads have no right to charge a higher rate for hauling freight over their lines from points in C. F. A. territory to Cleveland, for instance, than from Duluth.

TELLS PEOPLE NOT TO BELIEVE MANY REPORTS

Impulse to Plan Does Not Come From Makers of Munitions.

Asks Public Not to Be Misled By Statements of That Sort.

Delivers Short Address to People of Racine From His Car.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 31.—President Wilson threw down the gauntlet today to opponents of national preparedness who have declared that the movement sprang from the desires of munitions and armament manufacturers to make money.

"There are some things that are being said that I hope you will not believe," the president declared. "It is being said among other things, that this agitation for preparedness for national defense, comes chiefly from those interested in supplying the government with the munitions of war and from those who are interested in supplying with armament."

"Gentlemen, do not allow yourselves to be misled by statements of that sort. Anything that the government does, somebody is going to make money out of it. But the thing that does not come from those quarters, comes from men in other quarters."

The president's declaration was delivered from the rear platform of his private car at Racine, Wis., half an hour before he reached this city.

He came here to speak for national preparedness at the auditorium at 2:30 p. m. Tonight he will address another meeting in Chicago.

Short Time in Chicago.
Chicago, Jan. 31.—President Wilson spent an hour and a half in Chicago today en route to Milwaukee, where he speaks this afternoon. The train bearing the president's party arrived at the La Salle street station, and was switched through freight yards to the Northwestern terminal, where the president remained until his special departed for the north at 10 a. m.

At the Northwestern station the president and Mrs. Wilson posed for photographers and took a short walk on the platform. Mrs. Wilson accompanied the party to Milwaukee.

At both stations, crowds numbering several thousand stood outside the gates and clamored for sight of the executive. The president appeared on the observation platform and lifted his hat to the crowd, but Mrs. Wilson remained inside the car.

Many Men on Guard.
Twenty-five secret service men and 125 policemen, the picked men of the force, met the train at the station. A small delegation of admirers who had intended to board the train at the station, but who were told that the president would hold an impromptu reception at the Northwestern station later on.

A crowd gathered about the gates in the hope of seeing the president, but were disappointed as he was eating breakfast and did not leave his car. A few minutes after Mr. Wilson arrived at the Northwestern station, he alighted from his private car and walked up and down the platform accompanied by a guard of secret service men.

OPPOSE REPEAL OF MIXED FLOUR LAW

Minnesota Congressmen Appear at Committee Hearing.

From The Washington Bureau.
Washington, Jan. 31.—Senator Clapp and Representatives Anderson, Schall, and Smith of Minnesota today attended the hearings before the ways and means committee on the Rainey bill proposing to repeal the mixed flour law. They stated that they would oppose the passage of the bill on the ground that it would open the way to placing an inferior product on the market as flour. Former Governor John Lind also appeared as counsel for the Minnesota millers.

Today D. F. Keck, of the International Revenue Bureau, and Ascher Miner of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., president of the National Association of White Corn Millers, favored the passage of the Rainey bill.

SCORES GLIB CONFESSIONS.

Real Belief Important for Christian, Says Pastor.

A return on the part of professed Christians to a real belief in Christ is necessary, according to Rev. Herbert Ford, pastor of the West Duluth Baptist church, Fifty-ninth avenue west and Grand avenue, who spoke on "The Belief in Christ" at the monthly business meeting of the church last night.

Rev. Mr. Ford said that men who glibly say they believe in Christ, yet they confess to an unbelief in the modern kind. Formerly the men frankly said they did not believe in God or Christ.

CONFESSIONS KILLING MAN IN TEXAS

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 31.—Declaring he would rather be in the penitentiary than a fugitive, Reece Vinson, 28 years old, nephew of a wealthy Texas rancher, told Sheriff Otto Langum, according to the latter, that he is wanted in Lufkin, Tex., to answer to a charge of murder. He asked to be returned to that state. Sheriff Langum is in communication with the Texas authorities in an effort to verify a confession which the young man said to have made.

Saying, according to the sheriff, that he had stabbed one man and shot another, he gave details of the affairs.

Used His Credit.

Knowing that good credit was a good asset, he went to work securing loans in small amounts from as many jobbers as possible. He secured jewelry from almost 100 jobbers and other goods from other jobbers. Few of these accounts ran over $100. After securing the shipments of goods he proceeded to get the goods out of Duluth. This he did by sending them out as excess baggage, in this way leaving no clue for some inquisitive detective to follow. He went to Stamford, Conn., also to Port Chester, N. H., where he was married to Mrs. Fude's daughter.

Traced by Credit Manager.

The jobbers who were unable to secure payment sought to learn Fude's whereabouts and the Duluth jobbers' Credit bureau was enlisted in the cause. Willis Q. Derby, secretary and manager, began to search, and after much difficulty got a clue from a partially buried envelope of Fude's with the postmark of Stamford, Conn. He wired the chief of police there and Fude was soon under arrest for using the mails to defraud. Mr. Derby was made trustee for Fude's creditors. The latter was declared a bankrupt and he recovered $500 in cash from the jewelry and also stock which was inventoried at $3,800.

Fude was under $750 bonds and, being unable to raise the cash, was placed in the county jail here, where he has been for more than four months.

FLOCKS OF GROSBEAKS REACH DULUTH

MYSTERIOUS TRAMPS OF BIRD KINGDOM

The evening grosbeaks are back. Flocks of these mysterious birds were seen in Duluth yesterday and today.

There are no more interesting or mysterious creatures in the entire feathered world than the evening grosbeaks and but little is known of their habits. They seem to have no regular nest periods, and at times when other birds are busy with nest building and mating, the grosbeaks may be seen in flocks. They are feathered tramps and come when they like and go when they like. One day the trees will be alive with them. The next day there will not be a grosbeak in sight, and there is apparently no reason for their coming or their going.

Their nests are seldom found. The Grosbeaks are said to be about the only birds in Duluth now. If there are any birds in Duluth who can give some further information about the habits of the grosbeaks, The Herald would be glad to publish it.

FUDA ENTERS GUILTY PLEA

Jeweler of New Duluth Used U. S. Mails to Defraud.

Whether there will be a campaign instituted in Duluth to raise funds for St. Mary's hospital or both St. Mary's and St. Luke's hospitals, will be decided when C. J. Sheffield of Cleveland, Ohio, meets with the directors of the latter institution and goes over the situation. If the directors of St. Luke's hospital decide to go in the campaign with St. Mary's hospital, it is very probable that a joint fund-raising campaign will be held during the next few weeks.

Mr. Sheffield worked for St. Mary's hospital in Superior last year. He has already established headquarters in the sun parlor of the Spalding hotel. Preliminary work has already been started on the St. Mary's hospital campaign, and should the directors of St. Luke's hospital decide to join the campaign along with St. Mary's hospital, the work in behalf of raising funds for the two hospitals will be carried on simultaneously.

St. Luke's directors are planning another trip to the same place as the present hospital with a connecting link. The plans have been under consideration for several months. If the difficulties of a division of the funds can be solved, a commercial club approved by Mr. Sheffield's plan, the joint campaign will probably be undertaken.

Twins Lighten Sentence.

Mrs. I. Fuda gave birth to twin babies in morning and saved her husband from getting a long sentence from Federal Judge Page Morris. Fuda was sentenced to serve four months for using the United States mails to defraud.

Emilio Chirappa, alias I. Fuda, who was indicted by the January grand jury of the Federal district court on a charge of using the mails to defraud, entered a plea of guilty this afternoon before Judge Page Morris. Fuda, as he is known here, decided several days ago to plead guilty and Judge Morris has been considering several phases of his case. In determining upon the length of his sentence, he has already been in jail four months and also has a wife still in her teens who needs his support.

Fuda's case is rather remarkable in several respects. He paid off men out in Chicago and took the name Fuda from the woman whom he declared was

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Declaring that the interstate rates on grain and other commodities, except coal, moving between Duluth and points in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Nebraska, are not unreasonable or discriminatory, the interstate commerce commission today dismissed the complaint of the Holmes & Hallows company against the Great Northern and other roads.

This case was brought as a result of the higher charge made by the railroads for moving interstate shipments than for the movement wholly within the state of Minnesota, for the same loads and under the same conditions. The Minnesota state law governs the state movement, while the railroads have constructed their tariffs on a higher basis for interstate traffic between the head of the Lakes and the points named above. The shippers contended that the Minnesota rate was reasonable and that the interstate rate should not exceed it. The commission held the coal rates attacked in this case for further consideration.

Cloquet Lodges Install Officers.

Eisenbeck, recording scribe; W. E. Erickson, financial scribe; L. A. Freeman, treasurer; J. E. Bissan, junior warden.

Cloquet Lighting Rates to Be Cut.

Cloquet, Minn., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Cloquet Electric company announces that, beginning Feb. 1, a new schedule of electric light rates will be effective in Cloquet which will reduce the rates for lighting purposes about 17 per cent.

The new schedule announced makes a graduated reduction from the former rates to all classes of consumers and shows a net reduction of 18 cents per kilowatt hour in the rate to consumers of the light class with corresponding reductions to the larger consumers. The greatest reduction being made in the rate of the consumers using the smallest amount of current, the new rate will greatly reduce the light bill of all Cloquet families.

The new schedule also makes a flat net rate of 3 cents per kilowatt hour on electricity for heating and cooking purposes a special meter being required and furnished for this service. The company also announces that a special rate may be obtained by manufacturers using large amounts of current for power purposes.

Snow Will Feature New Photo Play

A photoplay featuring the snow of Northern Minnesota will be made by the Essanay Film corporation of Chicago, and several players and two directors passed yesterday in Duluth while en route to Virginia where the picture will be taken. The subject of the photoplay will be "The Snow Burner Pays." The company is under the direction of Henry Oryne and Assistant Director B. G. Bates.

The film players and producers were very enthusiastic about Duluth and the winter sports here. The whole party took a sleigh-ride last night.

Fine Bird Show Begins at Fargo

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 31.—With about sixty exhibitors and a showing of 817 birds, the North Dakota State Poultry show, which opened to the public at the Auditorium this morning for a five-day run, is one of the strongest exhibitions of feathered stock ever gathered together in this section.

Stomach Upset?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't care feeling, and general energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping or cramping.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 50c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

POLITICS IN THE NORTH STAR STATE

Comment on Candidates, Near-Candidates and Those Willing to Be Candidates for Public Office; Flotsam and Jetsam on the Surging Sea of Politics.

"They say" that Frank B. Kellogg is about to formally enter the race for the United States senatorship. The latest news comes from Washington, the Minnesota congressmen having accepted the rumors as well founded. And they were not surprised apparently, nor are many others. It has been claimed for some time that Mr. Kellogg's letter of declination, while lofty in tone and apparently sincere, was really a "feeler" designed to snare a demand for his entrance. It will be remembered that in his letter, Mr. Kellogg acknowledged that he would feel honored were he called upon to take so high a place as senator from Minnesota, but expressed a disinclination, in fact, repugnance, to indulge in a campaign for self-advancement. In other words, he would be glad to have the job but he would not accept it unless he was asked to do so. The question would be, in case Mr. Kellogg should enter the contest: Who would he hurt the most, Eberhart or Clapp?

As an answer to the question, comes the rumor that the Burnquist forces are backing or will back Mr. Kellogg, and that the allurement of the "pie-plate" has cut into Eberhart's strength to some extent already. Just why the same effect for the reason is not attributed to the Clapp situation is not made clear.

Congressman C. R. Davis may cut into the senatorial contest. He has admitted in Washington that his friends are watching the situation in Minnesota in his interest, but says that conditions at this time are not such as would warrant his entrance into the fight. He says that if present conditions change he may enter later.

It would seem that Congressman Davis' ear drums must be most acute if he can hear any general cry for his candidacy for the senatorship.

Now that the legality of the presidential primary law of Minnesota has been established by the supreme court, political decks are cleared for the final run up to March 14, when the primaries will be held. Not that matters have been halted by the litigation, but now that the question is finally settled there is no further danger of obstruction to those who are interested in presidential candidates. As a matter of fact nobody felt much interest in the fight put up by Walter N. Carroll of Minneapolis, who wanted to file as a candidate for delegate without stating his preference, aside from the fact that it would settle, once and for all, that work under the new primary law was a fixture—provided the legislature hereafter does not monkey with it. So far, Mr. Carroll's part in it is concerned, it was lost sight of completely in the question at issue.

Nominations for presidential candidates must be filed by the office closing hours of next Thursday, but candidates for delegates to the national convention have ten days longer in which to file with the secretary of state.

Concentrated and at sea. So far, so good; but the Republican party, according to present indications, Root refused, so did the colonel, and Hughes has said that seriously anybody pretends that either of the two avowed candidates has a ghost of a show, so while the situation in Minnesota is concentrated, it is likewise at sea, up in the air or any other place described by figure of speech, which means that the Republicans are not acquainted with their whereabouts. The impression is growing that T. T. will lead the van after the usual program has been gone through with in Chicago in June, and it is presumed that Minnesota will fall into line. The impression is growing that Root is not at fault, it would seem that quite a number of the delegates will favor Root after a complimentary vote for Cummins or Eastbrook as the primary result may be; but as has been said, the impression is growing that Roosevelt will dominate. That is still a candidate is quite well understood, and it has been declared that he does not know whether his friends would stand for him. However, it seems probable that rather than leave Root's acceptableness, the colonel will relieve the tension and with his usual magnanimity take the nomination himself.

The Progressives of the state have decided that their delegates to the national convention will go unaffiliated. That means, probably, that they will receive their instructions in Chicago. The obvious efforts of the Republicans to get together with the Progressives has its incongruous side, for it seems rather to be a case of the Progressives absorbing the regular Republicans, if any absorbing is done, the smaller body swallowing the larger. Anybody can believe the story of Jonah and the whale if that is accomplished.

Tonight the Democrats of St. Louis county will meet at the city hall to choose delegates to the Democratic state conference which will be held in St. Paul, at the auditorium, next Thursday. The attendance is expected to be large. Whether anything more than a selection of delegates will come up is unknown, but the call for the conference allows much leeway. The same is true of the St. Paul conference. Its primary object will be the selecting of those who will file for the delegation to the national convention; but other matters may be taken up if the committee members see fit.

It is announced that Senator Cummins will make a speech at the banquet of the Lincoln Republican club of St. Paul, to be given at the St. Paul hotel on Feb. 12, and that that will probably be the only speech he will make during the pre-convention campaign in the Northwest. The reason for such carelessness on the part of the senator is the lack of presidential candidates in Minnesota and other Northwestern states.

In state politics, it would seem that the Republican party is being overshadowed by the governorship in the Republican party. The governorship nomination is believed to be slipping nearer and nearer to Governor Burnquist, and the idea of fostering this movement is being more strongly advocated by the state press as time goes on. There are now three strong candidates for the office of lieutenant governor, and more are sighted in the distance. James A. Frankson of Two Rivers is one of the candidates, and it is probable that he will probably militate against them, for Governor Burnquist is a St. Paul man, and the voters of the state do not take kindly to the idea of the cities being so completely in control. One of the best men mentioned for the lieutenant governorship, Alvah Eastman of St. Cloud, has declined to be considered. Sam Y. Gordon, former lieutenant governor, who has also been urged to go after that office again, almost brusquely refuses. In the St. Cloud Journal-Press, which Mr. Eastman owns and edits, he says:

The Journal-Press force is content with the work of publishing a good newspaper, and is perfectly willing to let other folks hold the offices. The editor of a successful paper has a much better mission than being a candidate for office.

Thomas Frankson of St. Paul, who has filed for the lieutenant governorship, has issued a "platform," which embraces the following:

Good government conducted on economic and businesslike principles. Strictest economy in the appropriation and disbursement of public monies. Fair and equitable system of taxation. Rigid enforcement of laws.

For a greater Minnesota; for a rapid development of the agricultural and commercial interests of the entire state. All of which consists of the usual patter of politicians who want office. Anyhow, what has the lieutenant governor to do with the election of a lieutenant governor? Of far more importance would be the knowledge of how fairly would the lieutenant governor deal out the committee appointments to the legislature, and there is no reason to believe that he would give this section a fair deal in senate committees. Northern Minnesota will do well to keep in mind his past record.

Red Wing Eagle: Republican candidates for the office of lieutenant governor in this state should attract more attention than they usually do from the general voters, regardless of party affiliation. The reason is obvious. The Republican candidate, when once nominated, is the same as elected because of the overwhelming Republican party vote in Minnesota. This shows the importance of everybody taking a hand in the Republican selection for this office so far as practicable. Because matters of vital interest to the public depend largely on who is lieutenant governor.

The explanation of this importance lies in the fact that practically all legislation of any consequence is performed by committees, and upon the qualities of the committees depend the qualities of the legislation. And the committees in the senate—the higher legislative body—are selected by the lieutenant governor. Upon the lieutenant governor, therefore, depends indirectly the quality of the service rendered to the people by the legislature.

Within the past few years, also, have transpired events which still further emphasize the new era of public affairs. The choice of lieutenant governor. On two occasions within the past six years the lieutenant governor has become the actual governor through the death in office of those elected as such by the people. Death has nullified the expressed will and the people have been left executive's place has been filled by happenstances, whom no one would have thought of for the position.

MAKING CHANGE ON STREET CARS!

CONDUCTORS REQUIRED TO BE ACCOMMODATING WHEN POSSIBLE!

We desire to again respectfully call the attention of our patrons to the necessity of providing themselves with change before boarding cars.

Conductors are required to be prepared to furnish change up to the amount of $2.

Some persons appear to have the idea that the offering of any piece of "good money" on a street car is "legal tender" and that on making such tender they have the right to be carried whether the conductor is able to make change for it or not. This idea is erroneous, as the courts have held that the tender of a $5 bill in payment of a 5-cent fare upon a street car is an unreasonable and therefore not a legal tender. It will therefore be seen that a person who gets aboard a street car with nothing less than a $5 bill is in the same position as one who has no money at all, so far as paying his fare is concerned, and that in such cases it is not as unreasonable as it may at first appear for the conductor to politely ask him to step off the car, procure change and take the next car.

INSTRUCTIONS TO CONDUCTORS

But while conductors are not required to furnish change for any sum in excess of $2, they are instructed by the company to do so as an accommodation to passengers when possible. A conductor is required to have $10 in change when first starting out, and it can easily be seen that the changing of $5 bills from two passengers would exhaust this supply. If he accepted two such bills he would be compelled to stop the car and seek change himself while all his passengers waited.

MISTAKES IN CHANGE

When a conductor takes a piece of money from you from which you expect change, and passes on without returning change or audibly calling out the denomination of the money, you should not rely upon his having correctly read it and upon his returning your change to you later, but should call him back at once and change audibly as they hand it to the passengers. Co-operation of our patrons in insisting upon our conductors observing this rule will be greatly appreciated and will greatly assist us in preventing mistakes regarding change.

Sets Many a Man To Thinking

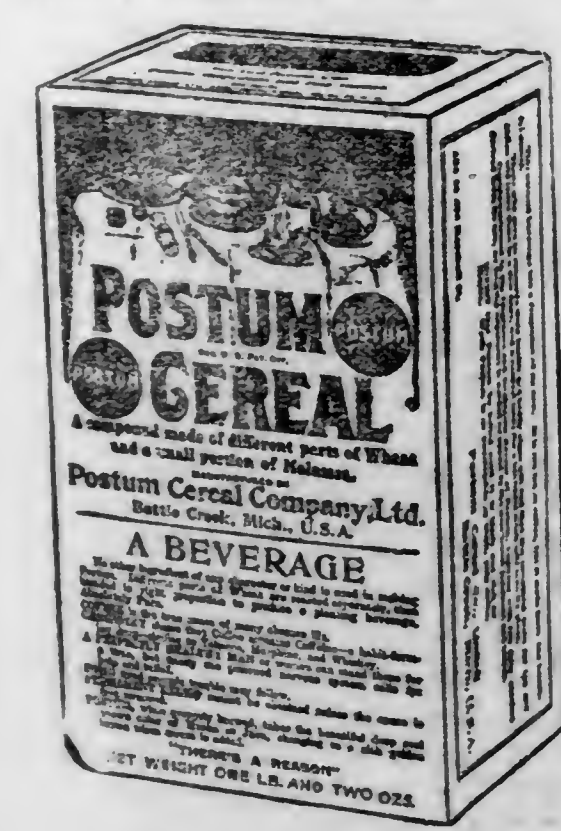

Strange how many times a coffee drinker will pass lightly over a Postum advertisement until all at once nervousness, a sleepless night, a dull headache, heart flutter, or some other ailment—often due to coffee drinking—brings the message home.

Then, attention is called to the fact that caffeine, the drug in coffee, does hurt some people and hurt them hard.

If you are a coffee drinker and think anti-coffee talks is only a "scare" it would be a good idea to make this easy, personal test: Quit coffee ten days and in its place use

POSTUM

If the change to this pure food-drink brings steadier nerves, sounder sleep, a clearer head, and the better health that follows freedom from the coffee drug, you'll know where comfort lies—whether to stick to Postum or go back to coffee and its troubles.

Original Postum Cereal 15c and 25c package.

Made of wheat and a small portion of wholesome molasses, Postum has a delicious flavour much like that of mild, high-grade coffee, yet contains no caffeine nor other harmful element.

There are two forms of Postum. The original Postum Cereal must be boiled; Instant Postum is quickly soluble in hot water, more convenient to prepare, and has the same rich flavour as the original Postum. Some prefer one form, some the other. Both forms are equally delicious and the cost per cup is about the same.

The change from coffee to Postum is a little thing to do for so great a benefit. It's worth thinking over!

"There's a Reason"

Grocers everywhere sell Postum.

GOOD BUILDING RECORD IN JANUARY

Sixty Permits Call for Improvements Amounting to $104,200.

The record of permits taken out at the building inspector's office during January is considered gratifying in view of the unfavorable weather conditions.

Sixty permits were issued calling for improvements valued at $104,200. This compares with fifty-six permits for improvements estimated at $90,155 issued during January, 1915.

The largest permits issued during the month were for a brick laundry building at First street and Sixth avenue east to cost $11,000; to J. McClellan, a brick store at First avenue east and Second street to cost $10,000; and a brick warehouse at Lake avenue and West First street, to cost $12,000.

ENTERS FOREIGN FIELD.

Express Company Establishes Foreign Service Department.

The work of winning foreign markets for American goods promises to receive decided impetus through the establishment by the American Express company of a foreign service department. The plans for it had been in progress for nearly a year and it is now in operation.

According to George F. Kennedy, Duluth agent of the company, this service is intended to supplement in a specific fashion the work of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce by taking up foreign trade promotion at the point where the limitations of the government service came into play.

For instance, the regulations of the American consular service prohibit consular officers from furnishing credit information on foreign concerns, collecting, etc. On the other hand, the American Express company has practically no service limitation in the foreign field, except that it cannot sell goods on commission or on any other basis.

Duluth was more healthy during 1915 than ever before in its history. For the annual report of the health department, issued today, shows the lowest death rate yet recorded, with one exception the highest birth rate, and a remarkable lack of contagious diseases.

But 914 deaths were recorded during the year, which is at a rate of 10.02 per 1,000 persons. Births numbered 2,158, more than double the deaths, and at a rate of 23.63 per 1,000 persons. "Excluding 155 non-residents," says the report, "the death rate would be 8.28 per 1,000. Excluding 75 still births, it would be 9.19, and excluding both non-resident deaths and still births, it would be 7.46." The only previous year to approach this record was 1910, when a rate of 10.56 was estimated for deaths.

In dealing with contagious diseases, Dr. J. R. Manley, head of the contagious division, has been able to make an unusual report to his chief. Smallpox cases were reduced for 1915 to 16 in 1914; there was half as much diphtheria as last year and about half as much typhoid.

Here is a statement of contagious cases in both years, with the number of deaths resulting:

Scarlet fever	1915	1914
Chickenpox <td>1915</td> <td>1914</td>	1915	1914
Smallpox <td>1915</td> <td>1914</td>	1915	1914
Diphtheria <td>1915</td> <td>1914</td>	1915	1914
Typhoid <td>1915</td> <td>1914</td>	1915	1914

Whooping Cough No Joke.
Whooping cough was prevalent during the year, and was responsible for as many deaths as diphtheria or typhoid. There were 17 cases and 10 deaths. There were thirty-one cases of croup, with five deaths and six cases of meningitis, with four deaths.

Dr. Manley says, "and it is not improvable that the coming school generation will have a considerable amount of contagious disease on this account. The thirty-four persons submitted to treatment during the year." Financial details of the department's report show the disposition of funds by the various inspectors in charge of divisions of the work.

The contagious hospital handled more than twice as many cases as last year as during 1914, according to the report, which gives a total of 346, compared with 177. Of this year's cases, 332 were scarlet fever and 33 diphtheria.

BURLESQUE

"REFINED"

"Blue Ribbon Belles"

Chastely Break the Ice
in Duluth.

There are three ways of presenting burlesque shows—clean, moderately clean and the other way.

According to the gossip of the profession, each company on the stage has three versions of its production, and the one that the "town will stand for" is given.

Evidently the "Blue Ribbon Belles," who rank the highest of burlesque in Duluth at the Lyceum yesterday, had been given instructions to "keep it clean."

It was Duluth's first experience with regular burlesque by one of the "wheel" shows, and for the Metropolitan theater was torn down to make way for the Soo station.

No smoking and no drinking was the fact that the audience was composed almost entirely of men, at the matinee at least, and for the first impression that this was going to be an advertisement for the city's reputation as innocuous as a "refined" musical comedy.

The sixteen young women in the chorus were dressed in the latest fashion, and they were required to don in musical comedy and it would take unusual mental acrobatics to find double meanings out of the jokes of "Burly-coo."

"Burly-coo" has not changed greatly from the old days. They still have Irish, French, and German comedians. The "Blue Ribbon Belles" are a combination of French, Irish and German comedians.

The good old stand-by is not forgotten, and the burlesque comedians still "pull" the old money counting "one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, Sealed Packets Only. Try it—it's delicious. BLACK GREEN or MIXED.

ART of the Garrick club arrived this morning from Minneapolis. The group included an Irish nobleman, a blushing ingenue, daughter of a peppy adonis, a French maid and a butler, 6 feet 4 inches of massive British brawn. They all registered at the Spaulding hotel and breakfasted together with excessive zest.

Tomorrow morning an English lord will arrive with the widow of an Irish baronet. Various trunks of finery in Paquin, Lucile and Madame Brody will accompany them.

A committee of leading young society women of Duluth has been chosen to act as censors. They will appear early at the Orpheum theater tomorrow evening and the "ladies" of the Garrick club will pass in review the finery of the censors.

They will put on those finishing touches that are women's least weapons in the eternal game. They will see that the coiffures are arranged close to their dear little heads, that the tulle veils are draped gracefully about the athletic shoulders and that the mantling flush is symmetrically placed on the cheeks of the pretty creatures.

A dialogue has been written in true nineteenth century style.

It may interest the public to know that the "ladies" of the east are all members of the National Security league. They are training camp this summer. The men of the club are members of the pacifist party, and one can realize how exciting are the meetings of the club.

Among box holders, for Tuesday night are: B. Wolyn, J. E. Grainger, A. W. Hartman, G. H. Spencer, R. M. Sellwood, F. A. Patrick, and S. H. Jones.

EVENTS OF TONIGHT AND TOMORROW.

The Shakespeare class of the Twentieth Century club will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the library.

The Drama League will give "The Imperious and the Creative" and "The Lost Silk Hat" at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the Little Theater.

The Finance club will meet at 8 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the library.

Mrs. P. L. De Vost of 10 North Twelfth avenue east will be the hostess for the meeting of the Lester Park Literary club at 8 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Percy Grainger program will be explained and illustrated at 8 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the meeting of the study class of the Matinee Musicals held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Y. W. C. A.

The Duluth Women's Suffrage association will meet at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the library.

Red Cross Fair Committees Will Meet Tuesday Night

Special invitations have been sent to the women's aid societies and lodges of Duluth and Superior to send delegates to the women's mass meeting that will be held by the German-Austro-Hungarian Relief association at 8 o'clock tomorrow night at the Spaulding hotel.

Cross and war relief fund bazaar which will be held in the Auditorium March 23 to 25. All interested in the success of the affair are invited to attend.

Many of the women on the floor will be dressed in national costumes, German peasant girls, gypsies, etc. The Auditorium will be decorated with flags of all nations, with the American flag at the top of every booth and in the center of the executive and main office booth.

A special stage will be built, and it is planned to have a mass chorus of children will give German and English songs for the opening of the bazaar. The first rehearsal of the children will take place at the Little Theater on Saturday afternoon. All children are invited to attend.

John Z. White to Speak at Suffrage Meeting

"What Women Can Do With the Ballot" will be the subject of the talk which John Z. White of Chicago will give at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the meeting of the Duluth Woman Suffrage association which will be held in the library classroom. Mrs. Maria McMahon, the state organizer, who came today for the bazaar, will also speak. An invitation is extended to all men and women to attend this meeting.

Mrs. McMahon, whose work as a suffrage organizer has met with wonderful success in the southern part of Minnesota, will speak at the lunch hour Wednesday at the German-Austro-Hungarian Relief association, and during the lunch hour Thursday will speak at the Canton cafe. Friday morning she will speak to the members of the Woman's council.

Engagement.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Sanborn, 2925 Second avenue, Minneapolis, announce the engagement of their daughter, Charlotte, to Earle E. Folsom of Duluth. The wedding will take place Saturday, Feb. 12.

Dialogue and One Act Play Will Be Given at the Little Theater

A dialogue, in which Mrs. Oran Brown, as Lady Millicent, does most of the talking and Paul H. Welch as the "creature" gets in only a few words, and those only by being persistent, will be given tonight when "The Imperious of the Creature" will be given by members of the Drama League at the Little Theater along with "The Lost Silk Hat." Lady Millicent storms at the "creature" who was sent to take her to dinner and refuses to allow him to explain who he is.

Mr. Welch is one of the best known of the drama league players and those who saw him last spring in the three-act play, "Her Husband's Wife," in which he was the one to storm and fume and mount guard at his wife's door will enjoy the contrast of seeing him under great restraint tonight.

Up to now, the plays at the Little Theater have had only dark blue curtains for the background, but tonight when Robert S. Walker, the rejected lover, leaves the house of the object of his desires, the curtains will be a real door that has a real doorknob.

The house in which the disappointed lover leaves his hat is a next gray brick building with a casement window at each side of the door. The drop was designed and painted by Arthur N. Starke, a member of the Drama League.

"Baby Sunday" Will Introduce Child Welfare Week in Duluth

March 5 will be Baby Sunday, and Duluth ministers have been asked to preach on the environmental conditions that make for better childhood, as an introduction to the child welfare exhibit that will open the next day at the Masonic temple as a part of the national baby week which was instituted by the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Scottish Rite Masons, through Miss Elizabeth Heikilla, who is in charge of their baby welfare branch, and the Woman's council, through its infant welfare committee, of which Mrs. J. Banning is the chairman, are making plans for the exhibit that will be held at the Masonic temple from March 6 to 10. The entire building will be turned over to exhibit talks, examinations of children and everything that will promote a healthier childhood.

Good and Bad Toys.

Various clubs have decided to take charge of booths relating to the care of children from 6 months to 4 years. One of the most interesting will be that of the Society of Women, which has a number of good and bad toys will be shown for all ages.

That this is a most important subject was shown by a statement made at a recent meeting held in Duluth by the Society of Women, which is the prevention of Blindness, to the effect that every year thousands of children lose their sight from playing with dangerous toys, such as knives.

The Women's Auxiliary of the St. Louis County Medical association will show all kinds of things which are bad for babies, Mrs. O. W. Brown is in charge of this booth.

The Association of Collegiate Alumnae will have a booth which will tell of pre-natal care and show how a clean and simple life in the home can be made from a dirty and disorderly one.

Charts showing the growth of babies will be exhibited. In charge of this booth will be Mrs. Arthur Barnes, Mrs. J. Banning, Mrs. J. C. Banning, Mrs. Constance Mitchell, and Mrs. Constance Mitchell.

The Twentieth Century club will show a baby which was born in a simple layette for a new-born baby. Mrs. A. H. Brockhurst is in charge.

With Acoustics Problem Solved Orchestra Is Amazingly Improved

The concert given yesterday by the Duluth orchestra was an unqualified success, and the enthusiastic audience which greeted the second appearance of the orchestra was a fitting compliment to the improvement that one short week has brought. If the concert of yesterday had been given last week, with everything lending to its best effort, as it did yesterday, there would not have been an empty seat, and if one felt some disappointment at the first concert, yesterday more than justified the assumption that the orchestra setting and improved acoustics, Duluth would have an orchestra.

The new stage and the new background and side wings not only have made the greatest difference in the acoustics, but have added materially to the attractiveness of the setting and one wondered if before long maybe the program might not be given with only the single lighting as the bright incandescent lights are rather trying. At the Minnesota symphony orchestra, stage lighting can be used with very good effect. However, that is a matter of personal opinion.

Mr. Bradbury is to be congratulated. At a concert like the one given yesterday did not seem possible, and everywhere yesterday expression of surprise and pleasure were heard on all sides. The March Hierarchy of St. Saens was played with dignity, brilliance, and especial improvement was noted in the strings, which last week seemed a bit weak, due, no doubt, to the acoustics.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

The Poor and the Rich Baby

I chanced to have an opportunity to talk on the subject of the millionaire baby and the child of the very poor parents with a number of men and women who were interested in the welfare of our coming generations.

These people are engaged in one way or another in helping along the cause of good citizenship by devoting themselves to the betterment of our race.

We took a recent New York Times and found for an example of the very rich child who is born in a palace and who is sheltered and where educated during those years when he is practically helpless.

We were all in favor of the chances of the poor little boy or girl, no matter what their circumstances. Each one believed that the poor child had a better opportunity of attaining the truly desirable things in life than did the very rich child, and that the latter was a question of curses, let it be with poverty and not with riches.

Every one in the party discussing the subject agreed that there was a consensus of opinion that there was not as much danger of becoming poor as there was of becoming rich through poverty as there was through riches.

Efficient Housekeeping The Lobster's First Cousin

BY Bernette D. Gravel

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA has a promising new industry, and lovers of shell fish rejoice, for there seems to be no end to the lively, sprawling, nipping crawfish to the Eastern lobster.

Unintentionally it calls them "lobsters," but the Wells-Fargo Messenger, in a leading article, tells how vast the daily catch is and how superior the crawfish is to the Eastern lobster.

In California the shell fish are protected from February to November, and no fish may be offered for sale less than nine or more than thirteen inches in length. But this law does not affect Lower California or Mexican waters, so that a plentiful supply is brought in through San Diego's custom house. The activity of the fishermen who hold the Mexican concessions is greatest during the winter months.

The Western crawfish seems to have more vitality than the Eastern variety. It will live two to three weeks in water after being crated, and three days or longer out of water. However, the Messenger says it is necessary to parboil the fish before shipping, and that it will live only a few days out of water.

After this they are iced and shipped in bulk. Because the catch is so enormous each day, it is not unusual to find a few crawfishes sold at a third less than lobsters have been offered. Their preparation for the table is precisely the same, but Californians claim their flavor is unsurpassed by any lobster that ever wiggled a claw, which is the right and proper way for anyone to feel about their own products.

A nine-inch crawfish has just about enough meat in the claws and back to whet the appetite of one person, and the best way to serve it is in a salad. Wash the fish with a brush and rinse in several waters. Crack the claws so the meat may be drawn out easily.

Split the tail underneath and reserve such parts of the "critter" as you like to use for garnishing. Some persons use only claws, others the meat and heat in butter, season with salt and pepper and dress with a rich egg sauce or dressing. The empty claws may be thoroughly washed and used for garnishing another time.

Crack the claws and remove the stomach, or lady, and the intestine. Lay the two halves on a buttered wire broiler, shell down. Broil about twenty minutes. When half done, spread it with butter to keep it moist. When finished, crack the claws with a nut-cracker or hammer, and serve with butter, pepper and salt.

No doubt that Duluth's orchestra has arrived.

Events of Interest

Duluth council, Knights of Columbus, will give its annual formal dance on Friday night, March 3, at the Spaulding hotel. The members of the council will be in charge.

P. Kelly, W. C. Toben, J. F. McKenna, J. Leonard McHugh and Charles A. McDonald will be in charge.

The Lester Park Needlecraft club will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. R. J. Carnes, 3726 Minnesota avenue.

Members of Pinal Birth will entertain their wives at a dinner on Wednesday night in the vestry room of Temple Emanuel. After dinner there will be an installation of officers and John Z. White of Chicago will give an address.

Wagner and grand opera will be discussed at the meeting of Miss Edna Harris' musical history class that will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at her studio in the Edison building.

The members of the Elite club will meet tonight at the home of Miss Jennie Lambert, 502 North Central avenue. Those on the invitation committee are Misses Florence Ryan, Elizabeth Day, and Misses Mary Regan, Jeanette Lam, Inga and Edith Ryan.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

There is no quicker or more effective way for the general public to get an idea of the variety of opportunities that are open to them than by visiting the association building tomorrow night.

Two entertainment committees have been formed to make the girls' association building tomorrow night a place where the girls can get a good meal, a good drink, and a good time.

A. see what good housekeepers the domestic science class is turning out. The girls in the domestic science class may lose a few boarders. The girls in the gymnasium and swimming classes will be successful competitors for the prizes at the tournaments next summer.

President Wilson think his bugle call for "Preparedness" has already been heard in Duluth. And when the butcher shows the secret of slicing a porterhouse steak from the front leg there will be no more paying 40 cents a pound for beefsteak.

Two entertainment committees will not be for members only, as everyone is invited to come and see what the girls are doing for the girls of Duluth. All who have the betterment of their city at heart will supply rewards for the time this given.

An Educated Heart

ONCE upon a time I knew a young man who liked to boast of his education. He would say to me, "I am a college graduate."

A few days ago I met this young man again, or rather, the man who used to be. He was traveling rapidly toward the end of the thirties; there were grey hairs in his hair, and his iron-grey hair? That is the one feature the heroes of my childhood have in common with my ideal of today, and lines, fine character lines, on the face that used to be so boyish and fresh. He had changed. It was not the same man.

He had grown fond of people. "No," he said, "I wasn't. I was thinking that very subject over the other day, and I found them fond of me. I had grown fond of them."

"What brought about the change?" I asked.

"Well," he said, slowly, "I've been growing older, and I like to think I've been getting a little better educated too."

"Does that make you fonder of people?" he asked.

"Yes," he said, "because I mean better educated in the heart, rather than the mind."

GARRICK CLUB (University of Minnesota) Will Present "LADY FREDERICK" At the Orpheum-Strand Theater Tuesday Evening, Feb. 1.

The Daughters of Liberty chapter, Mrs. A. E. Walker, of the Lester Park Literary club, under the direction of Mrs. W. H. Vaughan, will show the proper way to care for milk.

The city health department will furnish an exhibit, Nopemung sanatorium will have a booth in which the prevention of tuberculosis will be taught.

All materials for the exhibit must be sent in by Feb. 26. The members of the Women's council committee in charge of the club exhibits, Mrs. O. W. Brown, Mrs. J. C. Banning, and Mrs. Olive Kreitzer.

To instruct Mothers.

The object of baby week is to instruct as many mothers as possible. Efforts are being made to secure moving pictures showing the pasteurization and proper care of milk. These will be shown in the evening sessions of the city.

The doctors of the city will give talks on the care of children. There will be only one talk, Tuesday night, March 9, as a museum program will be given.

The baby scoring contest for children from 6 months to 4 years will be held in the afternoon from March 6 to 10. Children must be registered a week before the contest begins. Prizes will be given for the most perfect babies, and each telling her everything she should know about the health of her child.

The Ice Fairies Win

HOW! called the ice fairies as they swooped down on a young girl and set it to shivering. "The time has come for you to be frozen tight! We've only been playing winter before now, and you must be frozen tight and shut up up tight! Your time has come!" And they laughed to each other.

"Try it and see," replied the tiny water fairies, who lived in the tiny lake, "try it and see what you can do! We have friends who will help us! You can't get away from us! Try it and see! And they laughed at the ice fairies and their boogies.

For you must know, these small little water fairies had won a promise from the winter—a promise that the wind fairies would keep the ice fairies from freezing over the little lake. So they felt very safe, in spite of the ice fairies' confident boasting.

But alas for promises! During the cold days of the winter, when the ice fairies were not so numerous and before the wind fairies had begun to blow, the ice fairies had won a promise from the winter—a promise that the wind fairies would keep the ice fairies from freezing over the little lake. So they felt very safe, in spite of the ice fairies' confident boasting.

Smith Seniors Vote for Caps and Gown

One of the most important questions among the students at Smith college and one that is of interest to all of them is "Shall the seniors wear caps and gowns at commencement?"

The Smith seniors have always worn white gowns at commencement for many years. The matter of caps and gowns has been discussed and each year the seniors have voted down the class of 1916 has differed from its predecessors in going on record as favoring gowns and mortar boards.

As the decision is apt to affect all future classes, the girls will give serious thought and the juniors, sophomores and freshmen will vote on the matter before anything is decided. The students and faculty members say that if caps and gowns are decided on, the college will be better maintained, as a changing policy would be unworthy of the college.

It will mean that such costumes will be worn on commencement day.

The 1916 class is trying to make history, for not only did it vote to substitute the mortar boards and gowns for the traditional white gown, but decided against wearing a time-honored Smith institution.

URGES NEED OF HOSPITAL

Health Director Says City Should Begin Planning at Once.

Headed by a recommendation for a city, or a joint city and county, hospital, Health Director E. W. Fahey's annual report to Safety Commissioner B. Silberstein, filed today, contains the nucleus for radical changes in health and disease-prevention regulations of Duluth.

Director Fahey advocates: Planning at once for a municipal hospital. Erection of a detention building, where disease suspects can be examined. Stricter regulation for boarding houses.

Abolition of terminal disinfection. Extension of open-air school system. The report, together with that of Dr. J. R. Manley, head of the contagious disease division of public health work, contains recommendations for some of the most radical steps suggested in recent years, in order that Duluth's methods of insuring health and fighting disease may be modernized.

Dr. Manley goes one step further than his chief, suggesting that quarantine laws of the city be modified in order to allow the wage earner of a family to use his home and work, while the contagious case is confined in the house.

"Plans for the future should be started at once," Dr. Fahey says. "It is but a short time before we must start planning for a city, or a joint city and county hospital."

"The present privately owned institutions are doing a splendid work, but it is up to the city to arrange for the proper care and treatment of its inhabitants."

"The proper site should be selected as soon as possible. I would recommend that the present site of the contagious hospital be sold, as it is inadequate."

Detention Building. "The city now needs a detention building, where suspected cases may be detained until a diagnosis is made, and I recommend that provisions for such a building be made as soon as possible."

"The health department is strongly in favor of doing away with the present method of terminal disinfection, and substituting for it an up-to-date system that would prove more effective," Dr. Manley also suggests that there be no more fumigation after contagious diseases have been treated in a home.

"With the present surveillance of boarding houses," Dr. Fahey continues, "it is a surprise to me that there is not more sickness in the West Duluth and New Duluth sections."

"Legislation requiring houses where so many of the laboring men live to observe the same rules of sanitation applying to bakeries and restaurants is needed."

In conclusion Dr. Fahey commends the work being done in the open air school on the Irving school site in West Duluth, and expresses a hope that these classes are but a beginning of many similar ones.

FLORIDA RESORTS ARE NOW CROWDED

Charles A. Wilson of St. Catherine's, Ont., a prominent business man of that city, is spending a few days in Duluth visiting friends here. Mr. Wilson used to visit here some thirty years ago and to renewing old acquaintances.

According to the statement of Mr. Wilson, the Florida winter resorts are getting the greatest patronage in their entire history. "The European war has stimulated the habit of seeing America first," said he. "They are running seven trains a day out of Jacksonville, Fla., and they are all filled."

"This is the country for me. They can have Florida. I've been over every foot of the state and I wouldn't trade a small part of Minnesota for the entire state. They have sure capitalized climate down that way, though, and if you could see the way people are flocking to Palm Beach this year and the prices they are paying to get a whiff of sultry atmosphere, you would wonder where so many people get so much of it."

Mr. Wilson declared the changes in Duluth were so great that he would scarcely know the place. Some thirty years ago Mr. Wilson and W. F. King were intimate friends. Yesterday the two men met and renewed their acquaintance.

BRITISH CASUALTIES FOR JANUARY 20, 703

London, Jan. 31.—British casualties published during the month of January totaled 1,079 officers and 19,624 men. Dutch Steamers Damaged. London, Jan. 31.—A Lloyd's report says that the Dutch steamer Thuban has been damaged and towed up the Thames also that the Dutch steamer Massalyk met with an accident in which two of her crew were killed, and that she was making water rapidly and had been beached in the Thames.

TURKS' CRACK CRUISER IN EXCELLENT SHAPE

Constantinople, Jan. 31, via London. —The Turkish battle cruiser Sultan Selim, formerly the German cruiser Goeben, despite seven serious actions and several minor engagements in which she has been a factor, is still a fighting unit, apparently as effective and as powerful to all intent and purpose as at the outbreak of the war.

The correspondent of the Associated Press has been aboard to establish by a personal visit to the Sultan Selim that she is not a cripple or "lame duck" as she has often been reported abroad, but in perfect battle trim with every gun intact and ready to emerge for action at a moment's notice. The correspondent had no opportunity to observe her speed, but her recent encounter with the Russian battleship Maria indicated that this quality was little, if any, impaired as the cruiser was able to show a clean pair of heels to the Russians' best ships of the first fighting line.

BODIES RECOVERED BY USE OF DYNAMITE

Brownsville, Tex., Jan. 31.—Use of dynamite yesterday resulted in the recovery of the bodies of three soldiers drowned in the Rio Grande, Jan. 26, at Progreso, Tex., thirty-five miles west of Brownsville, when American soldiers invaded Mexico in an effort to rescue two companions.

The bodies recovered were those of Corp. Michael Young and Private Henry A. Rhode, Battery D, Fourth field artillery, and Private Charles D. Wilton, Best of the Twelfth cavalry.

The bodies will be sent to their former homes.

Examination of the bodies showed no bullet wounds and disposes of rumors they were shot by Mexicans. The search for the body of Sergt. Owen L. Clements will continue.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

GOSSIP, NEWS AND COMMENT OF THE OLD SPORTING WORLD

BY BRUCE.

MIKE GIBBONS is to fight three fights for the Capital City Athletic club of St. Paul during the year of 1916, for which he is to receive the sum of $30,000. According to a dispatch to The Herald, the contract has been signed and it binds Gibbons not to fight for any other club during the present year, unless Louis Dow, president of the Capital City Athletic club, gives his consent to such an arrangement.

Thirty thousand dollars is a large sum to pay a boxer for three ten-round contests. The financial success of the Gibbons-Alcorn contest is doubtless what inspired the Capital City Athletic club officials with confidence to put over so large a deal. It is figured that the Phantom will be greeted with record-breaking houses for his contests in his home town, especially in view of the fact that these contests may mark the retirement of Gibbons from the roped arena.

"Spike" Anderson is dead. A favorably known to followers of minor league baseball, especially to Duluth fans, died recently at his home in Minneapolis.

As former manager of both the Grand Forks and Winnipeg teams of the old Northern league, "Spike" Anderson was at one time a most familiar figure in this league. A remarkable outfielder in some ways, Little Anderson could not hit up to the requirement of the larger leagues, and thus passed a long and steady grind in the sticks.

Announcement of the death of Anderson will cause a genuine regret to be felt by many Duluth followers of baseball. While "Spike" was ever the butt of the kidders when he appeared at Athletic park, there was nevertheless always an undercurrent of liking for the little fellow.

Wisconsin Chooses a Coach. D. PAUL WITHINGTON of Harvard, one of the famous family of football players and oarsmen, has been chosen as the 1916 coach of Wisconsin's football team. The choice of Withington puts to rest the busy rumors that have been flitting hither and yon concerning the identity of the football mentor the Madison faculty would agree upon.

Not only was Withington one of the most striking football figures Harvard has produced within the last few years, but he won renown and athletic fame as a crew member. In addition to his prowess on the gridiron and in the varsity shell, the big Harvard man at one time held the heavyweight wrestling championship of New England.

Now will the rumors of the appointment of Gilmore Dobie, the return of Phil King, or the resurrection of John Richards be buried.

St. Paul's Bouspiel. STARTING today there will be a real curling bouspiel staged in St. Paul in connection with the big carnival that is being held in the Apostolic City. Many out of town rinks have already sent in their entries. It is expected that Duluth will send down a rink, although it was not certain yesterday that the Duluth Curling club would be represented at the St. Paulspiel.

The Little Finn Ready. WAINO KETONEN arrived in Duluth late Saturday afternoon and will start early today working for his mat battle with Joe Carr, which will take place in the Duluth Auditorium one week from next Friday evening. Ketonen never says much regarding himself. That isn't his way. But the little Finn says he is right and came here early to make himself ready for what he expects to prove the hardest contest of his remarkable career. Waino believes he will beat Carr and erase the one bad match of his record—but he also stated that he also believed that it will require the hardest wrestling he knows to beat the husky Minneapolis Pole.

GIBBONS MAY MEET SMITH

Duluth Club Would Match Easterner With St. Paul Boxer.

Efforts Will Also Be Made to Bring Brother Mike Here.

As was announced in The Herald several days ago, officers of the Duluth Boxing club are in the field for a Tommy Gibbons-Jeff Smith bout, to be held in this city around Feb. 26.

Such a bout, it is believed by the followers of the game, would excite a large amount of interest and would pull a big gate.

Tommy Gibbons is coming to the boxing front with rapid strides. Thomas has shouldered a muckety and kept fair pace with brother Mike. The glamour that has been shed Mike's way has somewhat dimmed the glowing glove efforts of the younger brother, but nevertheless Tom has by real ability forced himself to a high niche in the boxing game and has come to be looked upon as one of the bonafide contenders for the middleweight title.

Jeff Smith, like other American boxers, made the Australia invasion, and fought Lester Darcey over in the land of the hopping kangaroo. Smith is considered a good man and a match between him and Gibbons should prove a real contest.

While Mike Gibbons is now under contract to the Capital City Athletic club of St. Paul and must secure the consent of Louis Dow of that club before accepting any outside matches, an effort will be made to bring Mike here. It is believed that the appearance of Mike Gibbons in Duluth would arouse a vast amount of interest. Gibbons has appeared in this city but once, and that before he became famous. Jack Warren, now a Northern league baseball player, was the opponent of Mike.

WITHINGTON WILL COACH WISCONSIN. Andy Smith Goes From Purdue to California University.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 31.—Dr. Paul Withington of Harvard was elected coach of the 1916 University of Wisconsin football team at a special meeting of the board of regents, at a salary of $2,500.

La Fayette, Ind., Jan. 31.—Andy Smith, for the last three years head coach for the Purdue university football team, announced last night that he has accepted an offer from the University of California to become head coach there.

DIRECTORS WILL MEET

Curling Club Governors May Decide to Send Rinks to Winnipeg.

A meeting of the directors of the Duluth Curling club is scheduled for this evening, when it is believed that it will be decided whether some rinks will be sent to the spilt of the Manitoba Curling association, or whether a rink or possibly two will be sent to the spilt that is to be held in Grand Rapids, Mich.

It is said that many of the members of the club favor sending some rinks to the Winnipeg spilt in return for the spilt of the Canadian curling during past years. Despite conditions brought about by the war, it is said that the spilt of the Manitoba Curling association will be very large this season.

If Duluth is to send any rinks to St. Paul, no announcement has been made this end. Several decisions may be arrived at during the meeting of this evening, however.

ILLINI BASKET BALL STANDING PERFECT

Chicago, Jan. 31.—The standing of basketball teams of the Big Nine conference to date is as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Illinois	3	0	1000

TOMMY BURNS DECLARES FULTON, THOUGH SICK, BEAT PORKY FLYNN

New Orleans, La., Jan. 31. Bruce, Duluth Herald, Duluth, Minn.—I refereed the Fulton-Porky Flynn fight. Fulton beat Flynn fifteen rounds out of the twenty, and Flynn was very lucky to stay the limit. You will hear different reports of this fight, but with my experience as a fighter, I think Fulton fought a splendid fight for his first twenty-round contest.

I absolutely know Fulton was in no condition for the contest, as the doctor who attended him told me after the fight that Fulton was a very sick man and never should have fought. It is well known here now that Fulton was unable to train for five days before the contest. No matter what reports you hear or read, I predict, with the show-in-the-fade for two Orleans under the conditions, he is the making of a champion with proper training and coaching. TOMMY BURNS.

DULUTH MAY NOT HOLD A SKI TOURNAMENT IN 1916

Lack of Patronage Last Year and in Seasons Past Has Discouraged Officers of Duluth Ski Club—Chicago and Chippewa Falls, Wis., Out for the 1917 National Tourney.

The annual convention of the National Ski association will be held at Glenwood, Minn., next Friday, when a choice will be made at the site for holding the 1917 national ski meet. The choice is said to lie between Chicago and Chippewa Falls, Wis.

Duluth, for the first time in the many years it has been aligned with the National Ski association, will not be a candidate for the national meet, and, another little thing, there may not be a ski tourney held here this season. This announcement was made today by an officer of the local association. Lack of support upon the part of the public, he declared, was the reason for the decision upon the part of the officers of the Duluth Ski club.

A tentative date of Feb. 20 has been set aside for the holding of the ski tourney on the famous old Chester park slide. Within the next few days, it was announced, a meeting of the club officials will be held with the object in view of determining definitely whether or not a tourney will be held in Duluth during 1916.

Small Crowd Attended. Last year the tourney was boosted up in the newspapers like a circus and every effort was made to stimulate interest. The number of those attending the tourney was extremely disappointing to the club officers. The failure upon the part of the general public to attend the 1915 tournament, taken with the lessening of interest that has been manifested during the last few years, has proved discouraging to those officers of the club who have given untold hours of time and money in the effort to advance the great Scandinavian sport.

While some of the officers are for the holding of the tourney, others are said to be rather doubtful of its success. Backers of the club have lost money attempting to make a success of the ski tourney here, and it is intimated that some of these men are rather tired of facing a continual deficit.

If a tourney is to be held here during the present season, a decision will be reached during the present week. There is not overly much time in which to complete the multitude of details, and the officers of the club, realizing this, will hasten their decision.

Lucine McQuaig and Edna Backlund, alto; Aleck Cameron and George Graham, tenors; and Kern Olson and Harold Swisher, bass.

Waino Ketonen, world's champion middleweight wrestler, stopped off at Ashland, Wis., long enough Friday evening to defeat George Sampson, claimant of the heavyweight championship of Wisconsin, in two straight falls, the first coming in 30 minutes as the result of the Finn's famous wrist lock, the second being secured by a headlock.

Waino will start training here today for his finish match with Joe Carr. The match will be wrestled at the Auditorium on the evening of Friday, Feb. 11. Before coming to Duluth, Ketonen won four contests, wrestled before the members of the Illinois Athletic club of Chicago.

Ketonen reached Duluth late Saturday evening and immediately got busy rounding up a number of wrestling partners. Louis Zornbuhl will work with the Finn to give him speed and several heavy wrestlers will be secured by Waino to get him used to handling a man as strong and rough as Carr.

"I think I'm going to beat Carr," said Ketonen. "I believe that I am a better wrestler than ever before. I have some new holds and you can say for me that I will enter the ring confident of beating Carr. I think the contest will be about the hardest I have ever fought. Carr's strength is something terrific. But I am going to be right this time and as there is no man in the whole world that I would rather beat than this fellow, Carr made me look bad and he's the only man that ever did that. I have no excuses to offer, but I want to tell my friends I honestly think there will be a different outcome to the next match. If Carr beats me this time, then I will admit that he is one of the greatest wrestlers in the world."

Ketonen looks in grand shape. The little Finn has been working out with the best wrestlers of Chicago and in addition has been in the hands of Martin Delaney. When Ketonen steps into the Auditorium ring on the evening of Feb. 11 it is believed that he will be in the best shape of his career.

Rolls Perfect Score. Aurora, Ill., Jan. 31.—Charles Scheidt of Rockford, Ill., rolled a 300 game at the interstate bowling meet here yesterday, in the doubles. He and his partner, Foshers, rolled into first place with 1,213. Cram of Rockford was first in the individual matches with 824. The five-man division was headed by the Birk Bros.' quintet of Chicago, with 2,728.

Not Anxious for Cards. St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 31.—Harry Ford Sinclair, Oklahoma oil magnate, one of the financial backers of the Federal baseball league, during his five-hour stay in St. Louis, made no attempt to see Schuyler P. Britton, owner of the St. Louis Nationals, for the purchase of which Sinclair recently opened negotiations.

Bemidji School Quartet. Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Herald.) A double mixed quartet has been organized in the high school by Miss Jessie Phillips and the Boys Glee club has been reorganized. The members of the quartet will be: Edna Andersson and Jane Hayner, soprano;

PREDICTS BIG YEAR ON LAKES

Duluth Vessel Owner, G. A. Tomlinson, Tells Buffalo of Prospects.

While in Buffalo, N. Y., last Friday, G. A. Tomlinson, Duluth vessel owner and broker, declared that he expects the coming season of lake navigation to be, probably, the best that has yet been enjoyed by the shipping and transportation interests. Mr. Tomlinson was at the Eastern terminus of the Great Lakes to look over his ships there, eighteen of which are wintering in Buffalo harbor. Mr. Tomlinson recently sold two of his ships, the Goulder and the Livingston, to Capt. W. C. Richardson of Cleveland. The Buffalo Express, in connection with its interview with the Duluth lake vessel man, reviewed his career as follows:

"Mr. Tomlinson is one of the self-made men of the Great Lakes, and began his career as a newspaper reporter and is at present at the head of one of the best fleets on the lakes, and independently wealthy.

"Some years ago Tomlinson went West and spent some years as a cowpuncher, and Indian fighter. He was once captured and tortured by Indians, and to this day he bears the scars inflicted by the red fellows.

"On returning to Detroit 'Tommy' renewed acquaintance with Buffalo Bill Cody, when the latter's 'Wild West' showed there. He went away with him as a rough rider. He visited France and other European countries with the 'Wild West' outfit and made a hit as a rider. Some time after his return to the United States, Mr. Tomlinson married the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Capt. James Davidson of Bay City, Mich., and shortly afterward embarked in the lake vessel business. He has been a success in the lake game ever since his start. He is known as one of the most energetic business men on the lakes."

VISIT TO BERLIN PROFITABLE ONE

Col. House Pleased With Results of Trip to German Capital.

Berlin, Jan. 31, via London.—Col. Edward M. House, President Wilson's personal representative, has left Berlin for Paris and London by way of Switzerland. Prior to his departure, though declining to be quoted with any particularity on the results of his mission, Col. House said he was very glad he came to Berlin, and added that the conversations which he had had with leading German statesmen and prominent men in private life, and particularly his conferences with Ambassador Gerard, had been most profitable, and would undoubtedly lead to a clarification of German-American relations, although it was to be doubted whether any definite developments could be expected therefrom.

His visit, which was chiefly for informative purposes, can scarcely be said to have brought him any novel or unexpected light on the German situation, the main outlines of which, it appears, are well understood in Washington.

Col. House will, therefore, it is believed, convey to the president nothing startlingly new upon the German situation and the attitude of the government in its various branches, but a mass of detailed information has been worked into shape in his long discussions with Mr. Gerard.

In the same way it may be said that Col. House, upon whom interviews with several of Germany's leading statesmen left a most agreeable impression, will report to the president on the attitude these statesmen have taken toward America—an attitude which has been described as one of friendliness and a desire to avoid any complications with the United States so far as is compatible with Germany's vital interests and internal harmony—and he will be able to support and supplement Mr. Gerard's reports by personal observations made by the foreknowledge that he will go direct to the president.

MOTORBOAT LAWS MAY BE CHANGED

Congress May Demand Licensed Operator Where Boats Are in Trade.

Owners of motorboats are interested in the proposed amendment to the motorboat law now before congress. The amendment provides that motorboats towing freighting, fishing or carrying passengers shall be registered, and that no motorboat shall be operated on the lakes without a license. A number of motorboat owners are objecting to the passage of the amendment. The chief objection comes from places where motorboats are rented for fishing and pleasure parties.

Sponsors of the bill argue it will insure that operators will do the right thing at the right time in case of emergency and the number of accidents will be reduced.

BRYAN AND FORD DENOUNCE DEFENSE

Washington, Jan. 31.—Telegrams from William J. Bryan and Henry Ford denouncing the administration program of preparedness were cheered at a mass meeting here yesterday under the auspices of eighteen peace societies. Six congressmen spoke opposing the preparedness plan.

Representative Bailey, Democrat, of Pennsylvania, presided at the meeting. The other speakers were Representatives Caloway, Democrat, and Dies, Democrat, of Texas; Gordon, Democrat, of Ohio; Sauder, Democrat, of Virginia; and Tavenner, Democrat, of Illinois.

Representative Caloway, a member of the house naval committee, said the advocates must want to spend the taxpayers' money lavishly.

Previous military and naval appropriations have been "wasted like water," Representative Tavenner declared. He urged an embargo on munitions and advocated "a vote of the people" on the question of war should it arise. Women should have the right to vote on the war question, he said.

The Smoke of the Active!

There's one fashion that never changes—the refreshing, wholesome, youthful, spirited fashion of "rolling your own" for a lively smoke with good old "Bull" Durham.

In no other way can you get a cigarette so fresh and fragrant, so full of vigor, energy and action. The man who "rolls his own" with "Bull" Durham has the taste of a connoisseur.

GENUINE "BULL" DURHAM SMOKING TOBACCO

The wonderful mildness of "Bull" Durham sets it apart from all other tobaccos, and its unique mellow-sweet flavor gives distinctive enjoyment to a cigarette.

"Bull" Durham is made of "bright" Virginia-North Carolina leaf—the choicest that grows. It is smooth, rich, most satisfying—and mild.

Start "rolling your own" with "Bull" Durham now, and you'll put yourself on the one right road to genuine smoking satisfaction.

Ask for FREE package of "papers" with each 5c sack.

FREE An illustrated booklet, showing correct way to "Roll Your Own" Cigarettes, and a package of cigarette papers, will both be mailed, free, to any address in U. S. on request. Address "Bull" Durham, Durham, N. C.
